Gienger

Smull

Two junior high students named

The St. Francis Junior High students are again participating in a Character Development program which focuses on character traits necessary for good citizenship.

The character trail discussed in October was "responsibility." Eighth grade students were given the assignment to research and report on a person whose responsibility made an impact on Kansas, the United States or the world. Seventh grade students were to assume a chore at home which would be their responsibility for at least a month and report what they learned from the experience.

Gavin Smull was chosen as the Eighth Grade Citizen of the Month. He chose Mother Teresa as a person whose responsibility changed the world. She dedicated every day of her life to children and families who needed help. As she said, "It is not how much we do, but how much love we put in doing. It is not how much we give, but how much love we put in giving."

Elizabeth Gienger was selected as Citizen of the Month from the seventh grade. She reported that in her family, everyone has a weekly job to do. She felt that this was a good way to teach responsibility now, as well as in the future, when she grows up and has a household of her own to run.

Other students completing the responsibility assignment were:

Eighth grade: Kattie Ford, Jenice Hartman, Chance Hobrock, Katelyn Jones, Dara Loyd, Sara Miller, Teri Walters and Lauren Zwegardt.

Seventh grade: Sarah Guthmiller, Andrea Holzwarth, Cara Hunt, Trent Kinen, Joni Pevler, Sam Sowers, Kim Voeller, Candice Wiese, Hailey Woodcox and Ethan Zwegardt.

Farm-City Week celebrated Nov. 21-27

The World Series and the Super Bowl are just two ways the nation recognizes champions.

There are other champions who live in the neighborhood. They are a part of the Farm-City team. They are responsible for growing, processing, transporting, packaging and marketing the nation's abundant food and fiber supply.

National Farm-City Week is Nov. 21-27, and a time to recognize these champions for a job well done.

During Farm-City Week, everyone is urged to salute all the "Partners in Progress" for producing the food and fiber and creating a system that delivers it efficiently and safely to the nation's consumers.
