Student Earns Grant
Tim Schultz, president and executive director of the Boettcher Foundation, is pleased to announce that Jobediah Rittenhouse from Idalia High School has been selected as a recipient of a 2004 Boettcher Foundation Scholarship.

Each year, the Boettcher Foundation grants 40 merit based scholarships to superior young persons from Colorado high schools. Begun in 1952, as a superior young persons from Colorado high schools. The program has sought to reward outstanding high school seniors who demonstrate the potential to make significant contributions to Colorado since the programs inception, the foundation has awarded 1,800 scholarships. The Boettcher Foundation provides in excess of $1.7 million annually in scholarships support making the program one of the largest merit based scholarships programs in the nation.

These awards cover virtually all college expenses for recipients who chose to further their education in Colorado. The scholarships consist of full tuition, fees and book allowances as well as an annual stipend for living expenses. The scholarships are granted for eight semesters at either a public or private four-year college or university within the state as long as the scholar maintains a minimum grade point average 3.0.

Selection is strictly "merit-based" allowing all seniors in Colorado to compete based upon their individual accomplishments. This year's scholarship winners were selected in the basis of their academic performances, demonstrated ability, outstanding character and their participation and leadership in both school and community activities. To be eligible for one of these awards, students must rank among the top 5 percent of their graduating class, have a score of at least 1200 on the Scholastic Assessment Testing program (SAT) or 27 on the American College Testing program (ACT) and be a United States citizen and a Colorado resident for their junior and senior year of high school.
