March 14-20, 2004

A Celebration of Agriculture

March 20 marks the first day of spring and National Ag Day. A time when producers, agricultural associations, corporations, universities, government agencies and countless others across America gather to recognize and celebrate the abundance provided by agriculture.

The National Agriculture Day program believes that every American should understand how food and fiber products are produced and should value the essential role of agriculture in maintaining a strong economy. National Agriculture Day focuses on educating Americans about the industry, so they may also acknowledge and consider career opportunities in the agriculture, food and fiber industry.

By far, the most effective part of this program is the role you play in helping "spread the word." A few generations ago, most Americans were directly involved in - or had relatives or friends involved in - agricultural-related endeavors. Today, that is no longer the case. That is why it is so important that we join together at the community level...our voices, in concert, become a shout that carries our message a great deal further than any one of us can do alone.

Join this effort to promote American agriculture to everyone during National Agriculture Week, March 14-20, 2004.
