Resident recalls life in the county

By Karen Krien

Lida Indorf Wahrman is the June Good Samaritan Village Resident of the Month.

Born on May 13, 1911, Mrs. Wahrman has learned a lot in her 94 years especially when it comes to giving the younger generation advice.

"I don't even try (to give them advice) because they don't listen," she said.

Mrs. Wahrman was born on the family farm northwest of St. Francis. She was the daughter of George and Jenny Indorf. She had three brothers, George, Hank and Fritz; one sister, Arlene and several half-brothers and sisters.

She grew up on the farm and had her share of chores including feeding the hogs, milking cows and fixing fence. Her family also raised Hereford cattle. She said it seemed like they always had chores to do.

She attended District 48 country school, then went on to graduate from St. Francis High School and they went to Hays State University. She taught school before getting married.

She said getting married to Herman Wahrman on Oct. 15, 1940, was the biggest change in her life. They had met in Herndon while she was teaching.

The couple farmed for a living, selling cream and eggs in town. They had three children, Stanley, St. Francis, John, Bird City, and Haddon (Joe), Goodland. Today, she has four grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Wahrman

Mrs. Wahrman's hobbies included patching pants, quilting, sewing and reading. She moved from the farm to Bird City in 1979. She became a resident of the Village in November 1996.

A reception with cookies and punch was held on Thursday afternoon at the Village. Family members and residents were in attendance.

Eligibility for loans is limited

The Cheyenne County Farm Service Agency has said that any grains put into storage in McDougal Sager Grain Company will not be eligible for loans during the period this facility is removed from the list of warehouses approved by the Commodity Credit Corporation. Loan Deficiency Payments (LDPs) are only available if requested before the grain is delivered. Removal action was taken by the Farm Service Agency Commodity Office at Kansas City, Mo. This warehouse does not meet certain technical requirements of the Uniform Grain and Rice Storage Agreement which controls the storage of Government owned grains.

THIRTY-THREE KIDS attended the Day Camp sponsored by the Cheyenne County Extension office. Among the many activities held was a bike safety course.

Camp deemed a success

There were 33 kids attending the June 2 Day Camp sponsored by the Cheyenne County Extension office.

The day started with Life Skills Judging. The kids then cooked their own lunch under the direction of Karen Jones, with the Northwest Kansas Area Extension office. They had nine different recipes and set their own table.

After lunch, the group was split into two groups. One went to bike safety with officers Joe Green, the Kansas Highway Patrol, and Mark Davidson, St. Francis Police Department.

The other group did a craft with Tammy Grice. The boys made a bird feeder and the girls constructed a blue-jean purse.

"All of the kids seemed to enjoy the whole day," Linda Elfers, Extension secretary, said.

•• NOTICE ••
TRI-STATE LUMBER CUSTOMERS
With the loss of my last full-time employee, I considered closing the doors to Tri-State Lumber. After lots of thought and soul searching, I have decided to keep Tri-State Lumber and Paints Plus OPEN! I feel a big responsibility to the contractors that make a living from the products Tri-State Lumber provides. Also to the many do-it yourselfers that are customers and need and enjoy the convenience of a lumberyard. I will continue to run Tri-State Lumber with part-time help, and continue to offer all the same building and home improvement products and paints. I will be closing Tri-State Gun Shop to give me more time to help Tri-State Lumber customers. I want to invite past and future customers to continue to shop at Tri-State Lumber for all your fix-up projects and remodeling needs. There will be times that we will be busy helping customers and your waiting time may increase some, so I ask for your patience as I will work to give you the best service I can. Again, thank you for your past support and I look forward to providing you with all your lumber yard purchases!
Thank you,
Brent Rueb, Tri-State Lumber

During the peak exercise season, keep these tips in mind when walking.

- Drinking and walking do go together — as long as the drink is water before, during and after your walk.
- For walks of an hour or less, plain water is the best drink.
- When the walk is longer than an hour, a sports drink or salty foods such as pretzels can help with water absorption in the body as well as replacement of salt and energy.
- Prepare for your walk by drinking a tall glass of water 2 hours before your walk. This will allow time for any extra to pass through your body before you hit the trail.
- Avoid caffeinated beverages before you walk, they cause you to lose fluid, making you thirstier.
- Carry water with you or plan for water stops along the route where you will be able to get a full drink of cup of water every 20 minutes
- Make your water taste good so you will want to drink more. Add a squirt of lemon and keep it cool.
