Agency announces loans forminorities

Manager of the U.S. Department of Agriculture Farm Service Agency for Sherman, Cheyenne and Wallace counties, announced the availability of farm operating and farm ownership loans for women and members of minority groups tees 90 to 95 percent of the loan who want to purchase or operate a against any loss that might be infamily-size farm.

"Each year, the Farm Service Agency earmarks, a portion of its farm loan funding for socially dishave been subjected to racial, ethnic or gender inequality without regard to their individual qualities," Asian and Pacific Islanders and Alaskan Natives.

She said that while funding is earmarked for loans to socially disadvantaged applicants, loan approval is neither automatic nor guaranteed.

'Socially disadvantaged applicants must meet the same eligibility criteria as other applicants," Ms. Eckhardt said applicants must be U.S. citizens; have a satisfactory history of meeting credit obligations; have sufficient education, training or experience managing or operating a farm; possess legal capacity to incur debt; and, be unable to obtain credit elsewhere.

Hospice numbers keep on growing

Why Choose Hospice?

Approximately 950,000 people in the United States were cared for by hospice programs in 2003 and the number grows annually. Hospice Services cared for 103 persons in fiscal year 2003-2004. The reasons people choose hospice varies, but those generally identified are life or hasten death, but instead to focus on quality of life.

Hospice workers (paid and volunteer) provide the person/family with information and opportunities to participate in the decision-making process, and focus the care on symptom management, comfort, dignity, and quality of life.
