The Saint Francis Herald 75¢

12 Pages

Thursday, April 20, 2006

122nd Year, Number 16

school gym on Saturday. Sponsored by the Chamber, there was plenty to go around. Above, Mia Foster, daughter of Ian and Mindy Foster, was happy with her finds. Left, Kobe Tice, son of Derrick and Heidi Tice; and Hayden Schneider, daughter of Michael and Kandee Schneider, were busy filling their baskets.

Tour to visit 10 sites

At 12:45 p.m. on Sunday afternoon, a school bus will load for the Cemetery Tour which is being sponsored by the Cheyenne County Historical Society. They will be touring the northwest corner of Cheyenne County and hearing some history of 10 cemeteries along the way.

There will two cemeteries that will be talked about as the group travels along. They are First German and Mount Hermon. Gilbert Ochsner and Margaret Bucholtz will be giving the information of each of them.

According to the extensive research of Marilyn Holzwarth, she records that "one cemetery which has not been found is the old Wano Cemetery. It was just east of the school on lots owned by A.M. Brenaman.

The first burial mentioned in early papers is that of Phillip Eberhart who was drowned in the Hackberry on Aug. 28, 1885. Other burials which mention east Wano include: Fannie Brenaman; H. H. Carson; Myrtie Carter; Norman Cassler, Isaac Cherry; Mary Ewing Cover, and Edward W. Poley. The Cheyenne County Rustler states that Isaac Cherry was moved to Lawn Ridge Cemetery on Dec. 7, 1889. He was with H. H. Carson and Norman Cassler when they were caught in a blizzard and perished on the Middle Beaver on Jan. 6. 1886.

Fannie Brenaman, Myrtie Carter and Edward Poley may have been moved to the St. Francis Cemetery according to plot records. Mary Ewing Cover was moved to the G.A.R. Cemetery north of St. See TOUR on Page 8

Ladies luncheon set for Wednesday

Spring is here and it's time for the rolls and drink will be served.

Chamber's Ladies Salad Luncheon. Throughout the luncheon, door Serving will begin at 11:30 a.m. and prizes will be given away. end at 7 p.m. on Wednesday in the First Christian Church fellowship hall.

"We want to invite all women to attend," said Gloria Bracelin, chase their tickets or make reserva-Chamber secretary. "This is not just a 'working women' luncheon."

Tickets can be purchased at First National Bank or at the Chamber office in the courthouse.

"It really helps that everyone purtions as early as possible as that lets us know how many salads to pre-A variety of salads, along with pare," Secretary Bracelin said.

People to drop off used clothing, items

The St. Francis Lions Club mem- Schultz, 785-332-2939; Neil bers will again conduct a Good Will drive but members will not be pick- Lampe, 785-332-3119; or Marvin ing up items from the curbside as in the past. Instead, they will have a trailer parked on the north side of Milton Lampe's home at 205 Birch clean, usable clothes, shoes, blankets, Street. The trailer will be there from towels and other household items. April 20 to May 6.

McCumber, 785-332-3274; Milton Zimbelman, 785-332-3899.

The members noted that because of Good Will regulations, bag only Toys and small appliances will be If anyone does need help in getting accepted (appliances that need only items to the trailer, call Rueben minor repairs may also be donated).

By Karen Krien

A new grocery store will be opening at 8 a.m. on Friday. Hours will be 7:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Mondays through Saturday. Summer hours will be different.

For many people, the opening of the Hilltop Market will be like a step back in time. The market will have the same location as the Hilltop Market in the mid-1900s, Benton Street and U.S. 36; it will still have basically the same store front and, inside, there will be some of the same shelving.

Different is the new owner, Rodney Neitzel and, different, will be the many of the items. But, Mr. Neitzel wants all of his customers to know that he is bringing back the Hilltop Market, with his main goal being to keep the prices of food

See MARKET on Page 8

HILLTOP MARKET owner Rodney Neitzel stocks shelves before the Friday opening. Herald staff photo by Karen Krien

Students present play

Need a little rest and relaxation? People can do just that when the St. Francis Community High School Music and Drama departments combined their talents to perform Once Upon a Mattress.

Co-directed by Debbie Fiala and Colleen Gardner, the stage is set for May 8 and 9 productions. Music by Mary Rodgers, lyrics by Marshall Barer and book by Jay Thompson, Dean Fuller, and Marshall Barer, Once Upon A Mattress is presented through special arrangement with R&H Theatricals.

Television watchers will remember the unforgettable performance of Carol Burnett as Queen Aggravian. However, this production features the unforgettable talents of Jade DeGood in that role. Based on "The Princess and the Pea," the play is non-stop music and comedy.

Tickets may be purchased at the door.

QUEEN AGGRAVAIN (Jade DeGood) gives King Sextimus (Matt Brown) and Prince Dauntless (Dylan Loyd) a piece of her mind in the play Once Upon A Mattress.

Cattle producers win $9.25 million action lawsuit had cheated cattle producers.

The nation's three largest beef packers owe cattle producers $9.25 million for violating the federal Packers and Stockyards Act, a federal jury decided last week in Aberdeen, S.D.

In the class action lawsuit, cattle producers successfully argued that store and processing plant located in when the U.S. Department of Agriculture misreported boxed beef prices between April 2 and May 11 of 2001, large meatpackers used the erroneous reports to reduce the prices they paid for cattle. As a result, the jury fined Tyson Fresh Meats $4 million, Cargill Meat Solutions, $3 million and Swift Com-

A jury found large beef packers pany, $2.25 million, to be paid to cattle producers who sold animals to them during that time period.

> Mike Callicrate, owner of Ranch Foods Direct and the Ranch Steakhouse and Market, was one of three plaintiffs who represented cattle producers in the lawsuit. Ranch Foods Direct is a natural meat Colorado Springs. Last year the company expanded by opening the Ranch Steakhouse and Market in the old Hungry Farmer restaurant before it could be demolished to make room for more fast food outlets.

> In addition to these ventures, Mr. Callicrate also operates a farm and See WIN on Page 8