Celebrating 60 years

Phyllis and George Elliott 1941

A reception to celebrate the 60th anniversary of George and Phyllis Elliott and to welcome friends and neighbors will be held Sunday, June 17, from 3-5 p.m. at the Colby Methodist Church.

Phyllis Bryan and George Elliott were married at 7:30 a.m. June 19, 1941, in the formal rose garden of Iowa State College (now University) at Ames, Iowa.

After living in many states, they came to Colby in 1975 after George retired from Sandia Laboratories in Albuquerque, N.M. George bought and operated two businesses in Colby finally retiring in 1994. Mrs. Elliott worked at the Colby Community College Library for several years, retiring in 1984.

George is a veteran of WWII having served over four years in the Field Artillery, including 18 months in Europe where he was a member of the First Infantry Division.

The Elliots have three daughters, Nancy LePell of Colby, Susan Elliott-Bryan of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Georgia Newkirk of Albuquerque, N.M.

Club News

BREWSTER PRAIRIE GEM

The May 7 meeting of the Brewster Prairie Gem 4-H Club began with the flag salute led by Vice-president Erin Carney. The members and parents sang Star Spangled Banner led by song leaders Rose Bear, Melissa Baird, and Whitney Schultz.

The roll call "How many days are left before school is out?" Was answered by 22 members.

The tour day committee reported that they have had a meeting and have decided on several possible dates for the tour. Members of the club and parents decided on July 22 for the tour.

A report was also made by members of the Cenour Center project. The committee decided to involve all members in redoing the kitchen, bathrooms, main room, and office.

The program consisted of the following presentations. Andrie Baird talked about her yearling bucket calf, Sucker Faye. Stefanie Eicher described her horse Lindsay as a small horse with a big attitude. Mandy Johnson talked about her animal projects including beef, sheep, and pigs. Emily Carney talked about how to prevent food contamination.

Stefanie Eicher and Kayla Ryan were recreation leaders for the evening. The club members adjourned to the outdoors for an egg toss. A few members had to wash before the meeting could continue!!

Vice-president Carney led the members in reciting the 4-H pledge. Club members enjoyed refreshments provided by the Lowell Carpenter and Fulwider families. Members are reminded that the next meeting will be held on May 7. This is a week early due to a conflict with the school schedule.
