long learners. It takes community involvement to have a program like this.

The programs start at pre-kindergarten through 12th grade. The Technology Prep. is in secondary and post-secondary years of school. The Technology Education side of this program are then broken down into key areas. These areas are classroom learning; experience based learning, connecting ability, and accountability. Shakespeare Club

Colby Shakespeare Club met Oct. 12 at Desert Rose Inn with Lois Van Horn as hostess. It was guest day and 11 members and four guests (Ann Kappenman, Eleanor Fasse, Bernice "Bo" Curtin and Deann Carmen) were present. In the absence of President Delores Ary, Vice-president Kathy Calliham called the meeting to order by asking the members to recite the flag salute and repeat the club collect. Roll call was answered with "What can I do for the children?" Various answers were "to listen," "spend time with them," "read to and with them," and "show interest and concern for them."

Amie Kendrick presented a report on trash pickup. Amie has contacted Mary Smith of Pi Gamma and the decision has been made to do both routes for the year but possibly combine the two routes later. Trash pickup will be Monday, Oct 15, at 9:30 a.m. with everyone meeting at the old Larry's IGA parking lot. Joyce Hansen and Kathy Calliham will be starting earlier in the morning if anyone else wishes to come early.

A sympathy card was signed for Clara Barrett.

Jeanne Thyfault presented the program And how are the children? A tribe in Africa has the traditional greeting "And how are the children?" with the traditional answer "All the children are well." Jeanne related that possibly this could be a greeting used in our society today. She feels that children in Kansas are doing well now. Jeanne is resource and referral director for Kansas Association of Child Care Resource and Referral Agencies. It is located at Colby Community College and serves the nine northwest counties of Kansas. There are four people on staff and the agency serves 172 daycare providers in these nine counties. A database contains all the day-care providers and this can be matched with those in need of day care. A list of three referrals are then given for the parents in need of child care. Jeanne shared some new books which she has purchased for the lending libraries at the agency. It was an interesting and informative program, showing us how the state of Kansas is trying to build a diverse, high quality child care system with parental choice and equal access for all families.

The next meeting will be at Helen Frahm's home on Oct. 26.
