Rotary gives questionnaires

Committee questionnaires were gathered at the July 9 meeting of the Rotary club so that new committees can be formed. During the meeting, president Les Brown presided. The only guest for the evening Deanna Carmen.

Rotary history for this week: Rotary started in 1905 with four members, by the end of the first year the club had grown to 30 members. Meetings were held at hotels and restaurants.

Early on, members recognized that just fellowship and mutual self interest were not enough to keep a meeting going each week.

They started finding ways to help the less fortunate. Rotary committed to public service in 1907, with the first project being a public laboratory. Rotary became the first service club in the World.

Friday July 12 in Abeline, this years new District Governor, Matt Teasley was installed.

A thank you note was received from the Prairie Museum of Art and History for the past year's support and this year's membership by the club.

Rotary Youth Leadership Academy held at Great Bend this year, is still taking applications.

The Annual Paul Harris Dinner is to be held August 9, 2002 with the District Foundation Seminars to be held the next day. Both events will be in Salina.

Leilani Thomas will be presenting the program about the Smokey Hills Public TV at next week's club meeting.

Jeff Horlacher brought to the club's attention that Miriam Beck, widow of former Rotarian William Beck, has passed away.

Rotary's International Convention will be held June 1-4, 2003 in Australia. Les is hoping that Paul Steele will finish his plane so he can commute members to this event.

Wayne Horlacher's program was a Rotary International video on the Hunger Plus Program.

President Brown showed a video on this year's District Governors Convention where Rotary International President Bhichai Rattakul, from Thailand, spoke on upper level management and what leadership is hoping from each club this year.

Longtime friends of Winona couple come for visit

Recent house guests of Gordon and Norma Albrecht were longtime friends of theirs, Ron and Betty Wagner from Grand Island, Neb. Coming last weekend for a visit was Gordon's brother, Bill Albrecht and his wife and daughter, from Fosston, Minn. They came from an area that has had abundant rainfall this year. It had been 18 years since Gordon had seen his brother Bill, so it was nice for him.

Eighteen local youth complete babysitting class

By MAXINE NELSON

Colby Free Press

Eighteen area youth and one visiting cousin from California completed the baby-sitting class offered by the Thomas County Health Department last month.

Connie Walden, RN, was the instructor and was assisted by secretary Amy Meier. Keyna Baalman, dispatcher with Rescue 911, instructed the children on what to do when calling 911. Rick Dickman from the Colby

Fire Department showed a video on fire safety.

Diane Donn brought her daycare children and the kids interacted. Denise Voss demonstrated a baby bath with her son Ryan. Farm Bureau donated first aid kits and snacks for the kids throughout the day.

Meier said the health department plans to hold this clinic every year on the second Wednesday of June for children who have completed 5th and 6th grade.

Kountry Kitchen

This "cool" salad takes 15 minutes to make, but should marinate several hours before serving.

GREEN BEAN SALAD

- 2 cups fresh green beans, cooked and drained
- 6 plum tomatoes, chopped
- 1 medium red onion, thinly sliced
- 1 cup Mozzarella cheese, shredded
- 1 and 1/2 teaspoons dried basil
- 1/2 cup Italian salad dressing

Layer beans, tomatoes, onion, cheese and basil in salad bowl. Pour dressing over mixture, cover. Refrigerate 2 to 3 hours before serving. Gently toss ingredients. Makes 4-5 servings.
