Boy Scouts offer Wood Badge training

The Coronado Area Council will have a Wood Badge course at Brown Memorial Camp near Abilene in 2004. The dates are Sept. 17 - 19 and Oct. 1-3. Gary Eaton from Abilene serves as course director. Wood Badge was originally presented by Lord Baden-Powell as a means of strengthening and preserving the Scouting movement throughout the world. First introduced in the United States in 1948, thousands of Scouters have taken this course. Today, Wood Badge is the most advanced training course offered by the Boy Scouts of America and is focused on leadership development.

In the last two years, Wood Badge has integrated training modules from nationally known trainers such as Ken Blanchard, Stephen Covey, Paul Hersey, Spencer

Johnson and Richard Weaver. All meals are provided on the first weekend and patrols cook meals on the second weekend. All Cub Scout, Boy Scout and Venture leaders over the age of 18 and who have completed basic training can attend.

Participants complete the two weekend practical course, then write a "ticket" of items to complete within 18 months.

For information on Wood Badge contact the Coronado Area Council at 785-827-4461 or toll free at 1-866-950-7750.
