Legion goes 1-3 in tourney

Colby 5, Pueblo 7
Colby 13, Oklahoma City Jets 3
Colby 2, Wichita Tigers 9
Colby 4, Colorado SpringsWidefield 6

Despite solid play all weekend, the Colby American Legion team came away with just one victory in the weekend Jim Clanton Memorial Tournament in Garden City. On Friday, Colby had a 5-1 lead in the bottom of the sixth before Pueblo launched a six run inning to take a lead that they held for the victory.

Heath Bieker, Josh Houtz and Brian Sulzman each had two hits. Sulzman's two came in the form of a double and triple. Houtz also added two RBIs.

In the first of two games Saturday, Colby amassed 13 hits on their way to a run-rule victory over Oklahoma City. Josh Houtz once again had two hits, as did Miles Ackerman and Chris Gordon. Both Gordon and Cranston had two RBI's as well. Gordon knocked in both his runs with a two-run triple that followed Brian Sulzman's double in the second inning. Cranston's two RBIs came by way of a single in the fourth. Sulzman and Heath Beaker combined for the victory on the mound.

It seemed Colby used up their run production in game one Saturday, because in game two they could only plate two runs against a very talented Wichita Tiger club. Josh Houtz's two run single in the third, along with Miles Ackerman's double in the second, were the lone bright spots for Colby.

Colby did not let the final game Saturday bother them, as they made a fine comeback on Sunday, but once again came up short. Down 4-3 in the sixth, Miles Ackerman knocked a single to center to give Colby hope. Then Bruce Arnberger stepped to the plate and smacked the first pitch he saw to the left-center gap for a double that brought home Ackerman to tie the game. Colby could not bring home the go-ahead run though, and once again went down in the top of the seventh.

Colby still fought back in the bottom of the inning. With two outs, Jordan Cranston roped a double over the left fielder's head. Then Brian Sulzman walked, and became the possible tying run. Unfortunately, the rally stopped there, as the Widefield ace took the hill and ended the game.

Colby is now 10-8 on the season and will travel to Hays this coming weekend for their AAA Fourth of July tournament.
