Royals on losing end of history-making achievement by the Twins

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Kyle Lohse wasn't about to let his fellow Minnesota Twins starters down.

Lohse threw Minnesota's team-record third straight complete-game shutout in a 12-0 victory over crumbling Kansas City on Wednesday night.

"You don't want those kind of thoughts to cross your mind, but you obviously don't want to be the guy to give it up," said Lohse, whose six-hitter came after Brad Radke tossed a four-hitter and Johan Santana turned in a three-hitter to start the series.

This was the first time in the Twins' 44-year history they've shut out an opponent in three straight games, and the streak of 27 scoreless innings is a franchise high.

"Everybody's going to look like Cy Young right now, the way we're swinging," said Dee Brown, who had three hits for the Royals. They've lost eight in a row and 13 out of 14, scoring one run in their last 37 innings. After a day off Thursday, Kansas City plays a weekend series at Baltimore.

"Mentally, this ballclub is beat," manager Tony Pena said. "It's a tough time, but these kids are trying." Rookie Joe Mauer had his first career four-hit game, and Minnesota's first five batters — Cristian Guzman, Lew Ford, Mauer, Corey Koskie and Torii Hunter — went 14-for-21 and scored all 12 runs. Hunter and Matthew LeCroy each had three RBIs.

Lohse (3-6) won for just the second time in his last 15 starts, getting more run support than he had in all of June. In five starts last month, the Twins scored a total of five runs while he was in the game.

This was his fourth career complete game and third shutout. He struck out seven and walked none, fighting through some soreness in the right knee he had surgery on before the 2003 season.

Royals starter Denny Reyes (2-4) got only three outs and was replaced by Justin Huisman after hitting Koskie with a pitch in the second. Reyes gave up six hits, six runs — four earned — and one walk.

The Royals had plenty of chances to end their scoreless streak — putting two runners on in four of the first seven innings. Brown and Tony Graffanino hit consecutive one-out singles in the seventh. Lohse struck out Buck and Jackson to end it.

Giants end four-game losing streak by snapping Rockies' win string

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Despite a skid that knocked them out of first place, the San Francisco Giants are keeping faith in Pedro Feliz and their shaky bullpen. Every bit of that trust was rewarded in a streak-snapping victory.

Barry Bonds hit his 681st homer, Feliz drove in three runs and the Giants ended their four-game losing skid, beating the Colorado Rockies 8-4 Wednesday night.

Bonds' 23rd homer of the season staked the Giants to an early lead — and the San Francisco bullpen justified general manager Brian Sabean's faith by preserving the win and snapping Colorado's five-game winning streak.

Sabean and manager Felipe Alou held a pregame meeting with the Giants' beleaguered bullpen, which blew a five-run lead and a potential victory for All-Star Jason Schmidt on Tuesday night. Instead of ripping their relievers, Sabean and Alou both expressed confidence in the group despite its bloated ERA and 16 blown saves.

"It's nice to hear that the people in charge still approve of us," closer Matt Herges said. "It's like hearing from your parents that they love you. It's a wonderful thing."

Tyler Walker allowed Luis Gonzalez's eighth-inning homer, but Scott Eyre and Jim Brower pitched out of the jam, with Brower getting the game's final five outs.

Feliz also recovered from a 5-for-29 stretch that kept him out of the starting lineup in three of the previous five games during the Giants' homestand. He hit a two-run double in the second inning and an RBI single in the seventh.

"Every time I go in there, it's trying to prove that I can do it," Feliz said. "I think I do what I'm supposed to do. Maybe they don't see it that way. ... It's not going to be up every time. It's going to be up and down. But that's (Alou's) decision."

Bonds hit the first pitch of the second inning into the stands in right-center, a few feet from the sign keeping numerical track of his homers. He scored three runs, going 2-for-3 with two intentional walks.

Bonds has been intentionally walked 67 times this season — just one shy of his major league record set in 2002.

Kirk Rueter pitched 6 1-3 strong innings to win his third straight decision, keeping the NL West race in a California jumble. San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco all are separated by a half-game.

Rueter (5-6) allowed just three hits in the first six innings, but Alou left the workhorse left-hander on the mound too long.

Jeremy Burnitz doubled before catcher Todd Pratt homered on Rueter's 121st pitch to cut the Giants' lead to 5-3.
