

Homegrown talent helped the Trojans finish big

By Ray Nolan

Colby Community College
The Colby Community College Trojan wrestlers' season recently culminated in a fourth-place finish at the national tournament in Rochester, Minn. This was an amazing feat for the Trojans who started the season unranked as a team, and entered the nationals ranked fourth in the country. They did all this with a core group of wrestlers from northwest Kansas.

The team was led by Eric Luedke of Colby, who won his second national title. He won a national title this freshman season at 157 pounds. This season he won the 165 pound title. He was ranked number one in the country from start to finish. He is only the third wrestler in the long history of Colby College wrestling to win back to back national titles.

Zach Luedke finished fifth in the country this year at 174 pounds, and by doing so, earned his second straight All-American award. He was a mainstay in the top ten rankings all year. Zach won his first three matches at the national tournament before losing in the championship semifinals by one point.

Two Trojan freshmen earned All-American honors, as well. Dan Prater (Pratt), who moved from 141 pounds to 133 pounds during the season, had to heal from a broken hand to finish seventh at the national tournament. At the West Central District Tournament he lost both his matches, but was selected as a wild card for the national tournament because the district coaches knew he was struggling with the broken hand. Dan began the season unranked.

Matt Schippers (Hoxie) finished fifth in the country at 149 lbs. He also started the season unranked only to rise to All-American status. Matt started the tournament with three straight victories before losing in the championship semifinals. Three more Trojans, all from Kansas, competed at the national tournament. Sophomore Kyle Patton (Wellsville), one of only two Trojan national qualifiers (Prater being the other) not from northwest Kansas, lost two tough decisions, 3-2 and 2-1, before being eliminated. Kyle started the season unranked, but was ranked eighth at 125 pounds before the tournament. This was Kyle's second trip to the nationals.

Mat Gilliland (Hoxie), a freshman, won the West Central District title, and entered the national tournament ranked fourth in the country. He also was unranked at the start of the season. Mat lost two tough 5-3 decisions at the national tournament.

Finally, Jason Schippers (Hoxie), also a freshman, went 2-2 at the national tournament. He lost his first bout at nationals, then showed heart by earning two wins by fall in the consolation bracket. He was eliminated in his fourth match.

Head coach Steve Lampe is very proud of this team. "I think the fourth-place national finish was a great feat for this group. I'm certain that this was the best performance by an all-Kansas team in NJCAA tournament history, at least in my 33 year span.

"This team was a slow starter but moved upward in early December. Most don't realize just how close they were to winning a national title. There were two 1-point losses in semifinal bouts by Zach Luedke and Matt Schippers, and two 1-point losses by Kyle Patton, and a horrible bracket for Mat Gilliland. He faced national finalist and 2003 All-American Justin Perch of North Idaho in his first bout and lost just 5-3.

"We weren't even rated in December and worked up to number four," Lampe said.

"I still think we are a better team than Labette," he said.

Labette only started two Kansas natives this season.

It is also interesting to note that both Lampe and assistant Todd Voss are area natives.

The Trojans' improbable season is not only great because they came from being unranked to earning the fourth spot in the country, but they did it with homegrown talent, pretty much an uncommon feat in this day and age.

Trojan baseball 5-3, open conference today to make a comeback.

Golden Plains finally took their first and only lead of the game at 44-42 with 6 minutes remaining, but could not hold on for the victory.
