Plenty of new library items to enjoy

Jeff Friesen • Library Link

God-fearing, widowed mother (Ginny) who cares deeply about both of them and is trying her best to lead them down the right road of life. Muir is ambitious and has chosen a path that is drawing him closer to God and a bigger plan for his life. Moody the older of the two, is interested primarily in drinking, gambling, and womanizing. As all paths appear to be diverging from one another, a dramatic ending will no doubt leave the reader with a satisfied feeling.

If reading makes you feel like a fish out of water try Shark Tale, one of our new movies this month. Pixar

Entertainment goes big time with yet another of their latest animated movies that includes recent hit movies such as Shrek, Finding Nemo, and Toy Story. Voices in the movie include big-name actors such as Will Smith, Angelina Jolie, Jack Black, Renee Zelleweger, and Robert DeNiro. The plot surrounds the unlikely event that a shark whacks himself and dies. Oscar, being a crappie little fish is quick to take credit for it. Dubbed "The Sharkslayer" by the ever-fearful underdog fish, Oscar quickly finds fame after his Great White lie but finds only temporary happiness. Only after standing up to the "God-father" of Great Whites does Oscar manage to find happiness, love, and his true place in the underwater world.

Another of our latest videos is The Notebook. This movie (starring Ryan Gosling and Rachel McAdams as the "young" couple and James Garner and Gena Rowlands as the "old" couple) is based on the best-selling author Nicholas Spark's novel The Notebook. If you feel like Hollywood can't produce an old-fashioned love story quite like yesteryear, this movie could very well prove you wrong. The "notebook" is a journal that has preserved the memories of time between two young (and now old) lovers. The notebook is read in the sunset years of life by Noah (James Garner) to his now Alzheimer-stricken love Allie (Gena Rowlands). The plot is a classic love story of a poor boy marrying a rich girl and the resultant dissension between the families that follows. If you want the tears to flow freely for a couple of hours, this is your big chance.

Pioneer Memorial Library is located at 375 West Fourth and open seven days a week.
