

Did he?...or didn't he?

U.S. Open's newest champ answered every challenge

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — When the final putt dropped, Michael Campbell pulled the lid of his cap down across his face and let the moment linger.

He had taken on Tiger and won. He had played Pinehurst to a push.

He had finished four days in brutal conditions and come out not only unscathed, but ahead. A winner. The U.S. Open champion.

"Well, it's been a journey, my career," he said when asked what he was thinking after the final putt fell.

Campbell, the New Zealander who a few years ago considered giving up the game and selling golf balls, took control Sunday after a stunning collapse by Retief Goosen. Then he held off none other than Tiger Woods to become the latest surprise winner of a major championship.

Campbell answered Woods' final salvo — a 12-foot birdie on No. 18 — with a 20-foot birdie of his own one hole back to keep his lead at three and salt away the "thorough examination" that took place over four demanding rounds at Pinehurst No. 2.

He shot 1-under-par 69 to finish the tournament at par, an even draw with the withering course and two strokes ahead of Woods, who also closed with a 69.

"It's unbelievable. That's all I can say," Campbell said. "I worked hard for it. I deserve it, I think. And I have it. So it's all mine."

Woods failed to win his 10th major, instead finishing second for the second time, charging from as many as eight strokes back to within two near the end. Bogeys on Nos. 16 and 17 did him in. His three-putt on 17 was deja vu from the 1999 Open, also at Pinehurst, when he three-putted the green to stymie his chances of defeating Payne Stewart.

"I figured if I could just get to even par ... if I was lucky, I might be able to get into a playoff," Woods said. "Unfortunately, I made those two bogeys on 16 and 17 and (they) kind of put me out of that equation."

Out of the equation much earlier was Goosen, the defending champion who started the day with a three-stroke lead and who many thought would simply stroll through the pines to an easy victory.

But Goosen made double bogey on the second hole, lost the lead with three-putts on the third and fourth and wound up in 11th place after an 11-over 81, the worst final round shot by a leader at the U.S. Open since Gil Morgan at wind-blown Pebble Beach in 1992.

Goosen's playing partner, the surprising Jason Gore, shot 84, turning the final pairing into an embarrassing debacle. Tournament officials put them on the clock on No. 11 "because we had just had to hit so many shots," Goosen said.

Before No. 16, Goosen challenged Gore to a friendly wager because "at least we've got to try to play for something on these last three holes."

Big Shot Bob buckets winner for the Spurs

AUBURN HILLS, Mich. (AP) — Big Shot Bob hates his nickname. Robert Horry doesn't like the expectations or the arrogance implied by such a label — and nobody calls him Bob in real life, anyway.

Too bad, Bob. After the San Antonio forward's breathtaking performance in Game 5 of the NBA Finals, he'll be a Big Shot until they carve it on his tombstone.

Horry's 3-pointer with 5.8 seconds left in overtime probably will live for decades on highlight reels of the Spurs' '96-'95 victory over the Detroit Pistons on Sunday night, which put San Antonio up 3-2 in the best-of-seven series.

But that shot produced just the last of his 21 points, all scored after the final second of the third quarter. Except for a 3-pointer to open the fourth, every single one of his points either tied the game or put San Antonio ahead.

Sorry, Bob. Those are definitely Big Shots.

"You can make it Rob, R-O-B, but B-O-B, that's not me," Horry said with a laugh.

"It's Bobby Horry," said Tim Duncan, whose missed tip-in at the regulation buzzer could have been disastrous if not for Horry's heroics. "He does whatever he wants to do. He's Big Shot Bob."

The backup forward with five championship rings carried the Spurs through the final minutes, making five 3-pointers and adding a dramatic dunk in overtime, when Duncan's struggles and Tony Parker's terrible defense on Chauncey Billups were threatening to sink San Antonio.

Horry scored the final five points of the game after Detroit took a four-point lead — and judging by the audible unease in Section 107 when Horry inbounded the ball before his game-winner, Detroit's fans knew what was about to happen, even if the Pistons didn't.

"I just got the ball back, and since I was shooting well, I wanted to let it fly," said Horry, who surpassed Michael Jordan's career finals record for 3-pointers earlier in the series.
