

Checking the situation

Jennifer Schwanke, a member of the 10 and Under Sweet Thunder team, checked over the possibilities, with an eye on homeplate, during her team's game against Garden City at last weekend's Colby tourney.

College student-athletes make mark nationally

The National Junior College Athletic Association released its lists of 2004-05 Spring Academic All-Americans and the Academic Teams of the Year.

Colby Community College had 11 student athletes and 8 teams listed for academic excellence by the association.

Area students recognized as Distinguished Academic All-Americans with a grade point average 3.80 and 4.00 are Jayci Stone, Goodland, Samantha Wolf, Colby and Joy Zumbahlen, Bird City.

Andrew Bird, Selden, was named an Academic All-American with a GPA between 3.60 and 3.79.

The 11 All-Americans represented six different sports teams at the college.

The national association asks all athletic directors in member institutions to submit the teams who have a GPA of 3.0 or better. Colby College had 8 out of 9 teams meet those criteria. The team averages include every student athlete on the team.

The national results show the Trojan baseball team was the best baseball team in the nation with a team GPA of 3.43. They also had three individual Distinguished Academic All-Americans.

The men's indoor and outdoor tack teams were also the best in the nation. Lady Trojan basketball and softball, each with a team GPA of 3.51, were second in the nation.

Women's indoor and outdoor track finished second and fourth, respectively. The wrestling team finished second academically.

Carl Adams, Trojan athletic director and women's softball coach, said, "We are extremely pleased that our student athletes were recognized for their hard work in the classroom as well as on the field. We have great student leaders on our teams and these results show that among hundreds of colleges nationwide, Colby Community College is the best!"

Miami Heat takes KU's Wayne Simien

The Miami Heat president, while reviewing draft reports, said, "I kept coming back to a name, and I kept coming back to statistics," Riley said. "And I kept coming back to a player by the name of Wayne Simien that we had talked about all year."

And just as the Heat hoped, the first-team All-American and Big 12 player of the year from Kansas was still there at No. 29 — where Miami took the 6-foot-9, 255-pound power forward on Tuesday night. The Heat's draft plan was to get someone who could contribute right away to a title-contending team, not someone who needs some time to mature.

Simien believes he'll be exactly what Miami wanted.

"With my four-year tenure at the University of Kansas ... playing against top-quality college competition night in and night out, I feel that's definitely prepared me to step up in any type of role," Simien said.
