They sent ten batters to the plate in the inning and came out with six more runs to put the game out of reach. They tacked on one run in the fifth, and two more in the seventh to round out the scoring.

Game two was more of the same with Colby-1 winning the four inning game 10-1. his time Colby 2 was unable to get a hit off the trio of pitchers. Kevin Lang started and struck out the side in the first inning, then Eric Blanton came on and pitched the next two innings, followed by Cade Carter pitching the fourth.

Garrett Rogers started the game for Colby 2 and pitched into the fourth inning when he was relieved by Kirt Dugger.

On the road
Colby-2 traveled to Oakley on Thursday for another league game. This time they came out on top of a 12-2 game. The score of this game was 2-2 going into the top of the fifth inning before Colby's bats started to get hot.

They scored three in the fifth, two in the sixth, and five more in the seventh inning to put Oakley away.

Brandon Rasmussen pitched a complete game jewel as he shut down the opponents after the fourth inning. He kept the Oakley hitters off balance for most of the game while recording nine strikeouts.

Leading the way at the plate were Kirt Dugger, Brandon Gordon, Garrett Rogers, and Jacob Hutfles all scoring twice each. Scoring one run each were Preston Krzycki, Trent Jones, Jordon Voss, and Chaz Winger.

Game two saw the hot hitting continue for Colby as Dugger took the mound and led the Colby team to a 16-3 four inning victory.

Dugger gave up two runs in the first inning but settled down after that. Colby didn't score in the first inning but put tallies of 3, 7, and 6 on the board in the next three innings. Everyone in the lineup scored at least once with Voss leading the charge with three runs scored.

Hockly lock-out might have ended

NEW YORK (AP) — After losing an entire season to a lock-out, NHL players and owners ended an all-night bargaining session by reaching their goal: a tentative deal, expected to include a salary cap, that virtually ensures hockey will return this fall. The six-year pact still needs to be ratified by both sides. The players' association has scheduled a members meeting in Toronto next week, while the NHL board of governors plans to gather next Thursday in New York for a vote. The last round of negotiations began Tuesday at noon and culminated around noon the next day with a joint news release announcing the deal.

Details won't be released until both sides approve it.

South Carolina admits to 10 NCAA sins

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — South Carolina admitted to 10 NCAA violations committed under former football coach Lou Holtz in a report. Five of the violations were classified as major. The report was prepared jointly by the NCAA enforcement staff and the university and has been forwarded to the NCAA's Committee on Infractions, which can accept, reject or modify the proposed penalties. The school found violations occurred when prospective student-athletes were given impermissible tutoring sessions and offseason workouts from 1999-2002. South Carolina was also found to have a lack of institutional control. The school proposed two years of probation, a reduction from 56 to 50 paid campus visits for football recruits this year and next, and a loss of two football scholarships for the 2006-07 and 2007-08 academic years.

Armstrong's lead remains unchanged

BRIANCON, France (AP) — Alexandre Vinokourov won the second Alpine stage of the Tour de France with a solo ascent over the race's highest climb, and Lance Armstrong's overall lead remained unchanged. The win in the 11th stage was Vinokourov's second in five Tours. His first was in 2003. The T-Mobile rider rebounded from a disastrous ride Tuesday on the first Alpine stage, when Armstrong surged ahead of the Kazakh rider and other main rivals to retake the overall lead. Vinokourov still trails Armstrong by nearly five minutes. Vinokourov took the lead on the famed Col du Galibier, the last of three ascents.
