Brewster crops could use 'a good drink'

Boy, how hot and dry can we get. Guess it is normal western Kansas weather, but the crops could sure stand a good drink.

Nettie Mills went to Decatur, Texas to visit her sister and niece. Then she went to Temple, Texas for her family reunion. Nettie's son took her and they all had a great time it sounds like.

Mary Ruth Garrett, Gloria and Ron Ribordy and Whitney went to Leavenworth to attend the wedding of Jeremy Presley, the grandson of John and Betty Schroeder. Of course the grandparents attended, too. Helen Schroeder had a birthday dinner at The Grill. Her guests included Christina Weed, Barbara Schmidt, Pat, Elizabeth and Kent Gladdin. Her sons, Robert and Leon also attended.

Speaking of birthdays Ruth Jones is having her 80th birthday on Wednesday, July 20. Have a happy one Ruth and many more.

Steve and Carolyn Richards and Eugene and Doris Schoenberger's grandchildren set up a lemonade and cookie stand in front of the Craft Peddler on Friday and Saturday. Suppose business was booming as hot as it was.

There will be no blood pressure check on the 19th. The next one will be Aug. 16.

Our prayers go out to Olive Dillinger who is not well. Her address is 1630 Sewell Ave., Apt. A-9, Colby, Kan. 67701 if anyone would like to send her a card.

Collette Carpenter's daughter is home now. She has been visiting with her father in Salina. Collette is sure one happy Mom. Along with our potluck every Wednesday at the Senior Center, I will be serving soup and sandwiches or salad and sandwiches every Tuesday for a $2 donation. So come join us, we always have lots of fun.

Have a good week, and pray for that wet stuff to fall from the sky!

My Dear Child, Are you hurting today? Under all the things you've set up to keep your life in motion, is there a place in you that is hurt and aching, a hidden place in need of repair.

Yes, I can see. I want to mend you. It is to the broken that I come. Let me in. Don't hide the wounded places.

Don't show me only the shiny achievements and competent areas of your life.

I am here for the hurt in you, too. I want to bring health to every part of you. I want to see you grow. I want to make you whole. So when the wick of your candle is almost out, cry out to me.

I will send the gentle wind of my Holy Spirit to stir up that flame of life in you. Compassionately yours, God. Matthew 12:20.

Winonans having busy summer

Kenny and Meshell Hunter and Clay, Bill Hunter and Kelly Hunter of Tologa, Okla. called on Marshall and Tammy Fulton. The Hunters harvested wheat and milo for the Fultons for many years, forming a close friendship.

Walking down the alley between Bellview and Wilson avenues in Clark's addition is like a walk in a nature park. Pat Haremza and Lucille Bruns have all kinds of interesting plants and flowers growing. Continuing on south from Clark's addition, walking was the simplest way to cross Fifth Street to get downtown. The first of the week Bellview Avenue and Fifth Street was the site of a perpetual parade of road construction equipment, accompanied by a haze of cream-colored dirt which permeated the air. Thursday and Friday it was fun to figure out the maze of streets that would take one across the railroad tracks. By Saturday Winona will be showing pride in the newly paved Bellview Avenue and Fifth Street.

The Blue Sox took over the top spot when they easily defeated Oakley's orange and yellow teams in a round robin tournament Thursday evening.

This was the season finale for Eric Rucker, Kyle Gfeller, Lune Ballentine, Ethan Plummer, Gibson Palmer, Logan Hinkle, Kalib Hinkle, Joshua Lorenzen and Jerry Nichols. Seth Smith was on a fam-

Tiki torches recalled

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission recently announced a voluntary recall by a company making metal torches. Consumers are being asked to stop using this product, said Kim Dulic, consumer product safety commission public relations officer. The head and cover of the item, Tiki® Cone Metal Torch, can come loose or be dislodged during use, allowing torch fuel to spill. The manufacturer of the product, Lamplight Farms Inc., a Division of W.C. Bradley Company, of Menomonee Falls, Wis., had received one report that a torch head fell off the torch pole when bumped and spilled the fuel, she said. The spilled fuel was ignited by the burning wick, resulting in second and third degree burns to a consumer. "Consumers should immediately stop using these torches and return them to any Wal-Mart store for a refund," Dulic said.

The commission urges people to report a dangerous product or a product-related injury, by calling 1-800-638-2772.

Corrections

Address correction made on business for city sale
One of the business addresses for this Saturday's "Gigantic Garage Sale" in Colby was mislabeled on the map in Thursday's edition of the Colby Free Press.

On the map, the address was listed as 1205 N. Country Club Dr.

and should have been identified as Bickner's Electric, 1205 S. Country Club Dr. This was a reporting error.

The Colby Free Press wants to maintain an accurate record of our town. Please report any error or lack of clarity in a news story to us at 462-3963.
