Hoxie golfer among field in U.S. Amateur tourney

By Jan Katz Ackerman

HOXIE — One of Hoxie's own is vying for top spot in the 105th United States Amateur Golf Championship tournament.

Cole Nondorf stepped onto the No. 1 hole at Merion's Golf Club in Ardmore, Pa., as part of the 312-player field at today's opening round.

Nondorf teed-off this morning for two days of stroke play to narrow the field down to 64, and a match-play format will determine this year's winner.

Closely watching Nondorf's game is Ken Eland, a Hoxie attorney who has played golf with Nondorf for many years.

"I just checked his score card on the Internet and he finished 7-over par with a 43 on his first nine holes," Eland said this morning..

"I've played with Cole through his high school and college years at different times. He's obviously one of the best players I've ever witnessed playing," Eland said.

"He has an outstanding long game and his tee shots are normally 50 to 100 yards longer than the average player's. Cole just has a real great determination with the course and can handle adversity really well," Eland said.

According to Brent Rogers, Nondorf's first cousin, Nondorf has played golf since he was in grade school at Hoxie. After graduating from Hoxie High School in 2001, Nondorf went on to play golf at Fort Hays State University. Finishing his career at the college level this spring, Nondorf qualified for the U.S. Amateur by finishing in a tie for second place at the U.S. Amateur Sectional Qualifier at Saddle Rock Golf Course in Aurora, Colo.

In what was the second-largest qualifier in the country, Nondorf played for one of five spots among 140 golfers in the two-day event. Three of the top finishers were in the group with Nondorf as he golfed a par-72 with a two-day score of 140, leaving him at 4-under par.

Nondorf's parents, Bill and Shelley Nondorf, were among spectators. A call to the Nondorfs this morning was unsuccessful.

Those wishing to follow the tournament online can do so at <http://www.usamateur.org> or by television on the Golf Channel and NBC.

Chiefs now 0-2 in pre-season

KANSASCITY, Mo. (AP)—So far Kansas City's longest losing streak belongs to the Chiefs.

No one is suggesting Dick Vermeil's NFL team will come anywhere close to the humiliating 19-game skid that the Royals snapped Saturday night with a harrowing 2-1 victory in Oakland.

But they have played two games in the preseason and they are 0-2 and there are a number of disturbing questions to ask.

"Our offense is still not running right," Vermeil said after an embarrassing effort by the reserves in the second half led to a 24-17 loss to Arizona.

"We're better than that, but we didn't show it tonight. We might not have scored without the pass interference calls, and that would have been two weeks in a row."

The first-team offense, after failing to reach the end zone in a loss the week before at Minnesota, did manage a touchdown pass by Trent Green and a field goal by Lawrence Tynes, who had probably the worst week of his professional life.

Three pass interference calls against Cardinals cornerback David Macklin helped set up Green's 8-yard TD pass to Samie Parker and Tynes' field goal.

But Tynes, who was arrested earlier in the week for allegedly punching a bouncer in River Falls, Wis., also missed twice. He was already in Vermeil's doghouse.

Clearly, place kicking is a serious concern. Look for the Chiefs to fan out across the land in search of someone better.

"He's in the tank," Vermeil said. "You miss two field goals like that — not in the National Football League."

Yet, there was one Chief whose night was even worse. Backup quarterback Damon Huard was 1-for-12 for 11 yards and two interceptions. One was returned 27 yards for a second-half TD and the other helped set up Josh McCown's 5-yard scoring pass.

The former backup to Dan Marino in Miami compiled a quarterback rating of 0.0

"I know he's better than that," Vermeil said. "A quarterback is only as good as his supporting cast. The second half was not pro football. It was a disguise."

As many as a half-dozen starters were among the list of 25 players who did not suit up. But the brightest spot was the first-team defense. It did seem improved over its performance of the week before.

It held the first-team offense of the Cardinals without a score, although Kurt Warner did complete a 49-yard touchdown pass over Dexter McCleon that was called back by penalty.

But on the whole, it was an encouraging night for Gunther Cunningham's revamped and still-developing unit. New safety Sammie Knight got over several times to help on pass plays, something that was painfully lacking last year.

Cunningham also called a number of blitzes, showing the sort of wrinkle not normally exposed in an otherwise meaningless preseason game.
