German Shephard mix looking for home

Colby Animal Clinic has a one-year-old, male, German Shephard mix. Clinic staff believe this animal would be a good companion dog. He just needs affection and someone to care for him, a spokesperson said today.

Anyone interested in adopting this dog can either stop by the facility at 810 E. 4th or call (785) 460-8621.

Photograph of the animal is at right.

Group highlights modern day artist

The Colby High Plains Art Club held the election of officers at its recent meeting.

For the coming year, the following were re-elected: Marlene Carpenter, president; Margaret Denneler, vice president; Marj Brown, secretary; and Bev Kern, treasurer.

Marj Brown announced that she had entry forms for the Russell Art Review and Competition for anyone who was interested. She said that she would be taking some things to the show on Monday (Oct. 3) if anyone else wanted to go with her or send anything down with her.

During the business portion of the meeting, Bev Kern reported that a $455 had been sent to Rita Roberts for the oil painting workshop, which was held on Sept. 23 and 24.

She also reported that a total of 10 people had paid their registration and one more person had called that day and that four more were needed to meet the quota.

Volunteers served rolls and coffee for the workshop. Rosie Vandeyke and Kern served last Friday and

Club News

Jo Bricker and Kern both served last Saturday.

Jo Bricker was also in charge of the program at the September meeting. An artist of today was the featured program.

Bricker discussed with the club 69 year-old Simmie Knox, who was born in Aliceville, Ala., and who was the first African-American artist to be chosen to paint an official portrait of an American President for the White House archives.

"Knox, who started out picking cotton in LeRoy, Ala., where he lived with his Aunt after his parents divorced, never thought that he would amount to anything as an artist when he was a child even though he was always drawing pictures of his friends and creating cartoons," Bricker said.

"After high school, Knox attended Temple University's Tylor School of Art in Elkins Park, Penn., and graduated in 1971.

"He then worked in advertising and also taught art in Bowie State University in Maryland and the Duke Ellington School of the Arts in Washington DC.

"Knox's big break came after he painted a portrait of Supreme Court Justice Ruth Bader Ginsberg. Ginsberg was so delighted with the painting that she suggested Knox to Hillary Clinton when Hillary and President Clinton were looking for an artist to paint the President's portrait.

"The Clintons commissioned Knox to do the portrait and it was unveiled at the White House on June 14, 2004," Bricker said.

After the program, refreshments were served by Fritz Ostemeyer.

The next meeting will be on Oct. 11 when the members will meet at 10 a.m. at South Wind Plaza to work on their individual projects.

The program at 2 p.m. will be presented by Fritz Ostemeyer who is preparing a program about a painting her niece picked up at a relatives garage sale and then sold it for $900 on Ebay.

Jo Bricker will be hostess.

Recipes for garlic lovers featured

The Gilroy Garlic Festival has another cookbook out "The Garlic Lovers' Cookbook Volume II" for those who have to have garlic with everything. Who knows it may work on vampires as well as germs. The following information as well as recipes come from that book.

brown. Serve hot as an appetizer or with a bowl of plain yogurt for dipping. Makes 50 to 60 appetizers.

Garlic chip cookies
10 cloves fresh garlic
boiling water
1/2 cup maple syrup
1 cup butter, softened
3/4 cup brown sugar
3/4 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 1/4 cups chocolate chips
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking soda

Drop garlic cloves into boiling water for about five minutes or until tender. Peel and chop garlic and soak in maple syrup for 20 minutes. While garlic is soaking cream butter, sugars, eggs and vanilla together until light and fluffy.

Combine flour, salt and baking soda. Add to the butter mixture. Stir in chocolate chips and nuts. Drain garlic and add to cookie batter. Blend well. Drop by tablespoonful onto an ungreased cookie sheet about 2 inches apart. Bake at 375 degrees for 8 to 10 minutes or until lightly browned.

Remove from the oven and cool on racks. Makes 5 dozen cookies.

Garlic butter
Logs of garlic butter can be prepared and kept in the freezer to have on hand for broiled meats and vegetables. To make add mashed garlic cloves or its equivalent to sticks of butter. It is suggested to use six cloves per stick of butter and adjust to your taste. A few herbs and salt may be also added if desired. Form butter mix into logs, wrap in plastic and freeze. Slice off as needed.

Baked garlic heads
Peel away as much of the outer skin of a garlic bulb but leaving the cloves unpeeled and the head intact. Place bulbs in a covered casserole or on a heavy piece of aluminum foil. Drizzle bulb with olive oil, dot with butter and salt and pepper to taste. Bake covered at 350 degrees for about 45 minutes until cloves are soft and can be squeezed out of their skins.

Texas Surprise
50 to 60 cloves fresh garlic, peeled
12 ounces sharp Cheddar cheese

1/3 cup fresh parsley leaves, stems removed
1 to 3 jalapeno peppers (optional)
6 cloves fresh garlic
6 ounces hot pork sausage
6 ounces mild pork sausage
1 1/4 cups buttermilk baking mix

Blanch 50 to 60 garlic cloves in boiling water 3 to 4 minutes. Drain and set aside to cool. Shred the cheese in a food processor. Remove and set aside. Allow cheese and sausage to warm to room temperature. Chop parsley and peppers in a dry food processor bowl.

Crush 6 garlic cloves and add to the processor with the sausage and buttermilk mix. Process until well mixed. Shape into 50 or 60 small balls. Insert one whole blanched garlic clove into each ball. Balls may be frozen for baking at a later time.

To bake place bulbs on ungreased baking sheet. Bake at 325 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes or until golden

Fairgoers claim back $601,000

Kansas State Treasurer Lynn Jenkins, CPA, said that more than $601,000 worth of unclaimed property and cash was claimed by Kansas State Fair attendees at the agency's Unclaimed Property booth recently.

In the 25 years the state treasurer's office has been attending the fair, this year was one of the top three years in terms of dollar amount claimed.

"We always look forward to attending the fair," said Lynn Jenkins, Kansas State Treasurer. "It gives us an opportunity to meet fellow Kansans and for them to search our records for their lost or forgotten cash and property."

"Once again, the fair organizers and city of Hutchinson did a great job," Jenkins added. "The State Fair is a wonderful opportunity for all Kansans to come together to celebrate Kansas and all it has to offer."

Unclaimed property is anything from inactive savings and checking accounts, uncashed checks, stock shares and bonds, dividend checks, insurance proceeds, mineral royalties, and utility deposits. It is also actual property from safe deposit boxes.

Kansans can search for unclaimed property or cash 24-hours a day, 7 days a week by visiting www.KansasCash.com. Making a claim is free and easy, with no hidden fees or charges. To search, a last name is required and a first name is recommended if the last is common. Kansans may also call the Treasurer's office at 1-800-432-0386. Claims which are $150 or less, with one owner who has a social security number on file, may be eligible for on-line approval. Claimants will need a valid Kansas driver's license or official Kansas ID.

"There is no paper work and in most cases you can have your money in five to 10 days," Jenkins said. "Over 50 percent of our 16,500 claims returned last year were $150 or less."

Each year $12 to $15 million worth of Unclaimed Property is turned over to the Kansas State Treasurer's Office from banks, businesses and organizations on behalf of Kansans. The Unclaimed Property division of the Kansas State Treasurer's office has more than $158 million in outstanding financial assets for more than 700,000 owners. At the 1998 and 1999 State Fair, $773,000 and $641,918 respectively worth of unclaimed property and cash was found by attendees.

Editor's note: Jenkins, a former State Representative and Senator from Topeka, was elected Treasurer on Nov. 5, 2002. She is a Certified Public Accountant and former small business owner. Since being sworn into office in January 2003, Jenkins has expanded investment options in Learning Quest, initiated multiple financial literacy programs, and eliminated the reliance on state general fund dollars to operate the office. A sixth-generation Kansan, Jenkins was raised on a dairy farm in Holton. She is a graduate of Kansas State University and Weber State College.
