Seventh grade football team splits games

On Oct. 13, the Colby Middle School seventh grade football team improved its season record to 3-3 with a 20-8 win over the combined seventh and eighth grade Lane County Diamondbacks from Dighton and Healy.

The Eagles scored in the first quarter on a two-yard run by quarterback Kale Arnberger. Right half-back Taylor Moeder ran in the two-point conversion.

In the fourth quarter, Arnberger ran the ball in from one yard out but the Diamondbacks held out the conversion attempt.

Later in the quarter, Andrew Flanagan returned the punt 60 yards to seal the win for the Eagles.

The defense was lead by Jonathan Griffin, Ryan Parker and Travis White recovering fumbles.

Chiefs secondary is limping along

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — One cornerback is ailing with an injured knee and the other is limping on a painfully bruised hip.

The new safety is taking lots of heat for missing a crucial tackle in a loss to San Diego last week. These are not the best of times for a Kansas City secondary that was supposed to be improved this season.

And, in fact, it is. The defensively challenged Chiefs last year finished 32nd, dead last, in pass defense. Now almost halfway through the year, following last week’s 28-20 setback in San Diego where tight end Antonio Gates caught 10 passes for 145 yards and three touchdowns, they’re No. 31.

Even coach Dick Vermeil reluctantly admits where he might start if he were putting together an offensive game plan against the Chiefs. “I’d throw the ball,” he said.

AP Briefs

Daunte Culpepper’s season officially ended when the Minnesota Vikings placed the quarterback on injured reserve.

Culpepper tore the anterior cruciate, medial collateral and posterior cruciate ligaments in his right knee in Sunday’s loss at Carolina. Surgery hasn’t been scheduled yet, but the Vikings are anticipating that the quarterback will be ready for the 2006 season. It’s possible, though, that the 28-year-old could be out longer if further damage is discovered during the operation.

Cleveland Browns running back Reuben Droughns was arrested and charged with drunken driving.

One area of improvement has been the run defense. Opponents are running for only 93.7 yards per game, putting Kansas City in the top 10.

Vermeil also insists the talent is there to improve the pass defense.

“Sometimes it’s the players you play against, and the situations,” Vermeil said Tuesday. “For example, the big tight end (Gates) ate us up pretty good with 10 receptions. They beat us for touchdowns, throw a quick one and we don’t wrap up real well on the tackle and the big guy wins the battle. Whatever it is, it’s not good enough.”

Cornerback Patrick Surtain, one of two big-name newcomers who were brought in to boost the secondary, has generally played well. But he went out Sunday with an injured knee and his status is uncertain.

One reason for the slow start may also be that starting cornerback Eric Warfield was unavailable the first five games. He was suspended the first four games and then did not make the active list on the fifth.

He started against the Chargers but was slowed by a hip pointer. In addition, backup safety Jerome Woods may be listed as doubtful with a hamstring injury.

“My biggest concern would be Patrick Surtain starting at corner,” Vermeil said.

There apparently is no damage to the knee.

“It’s a knee he’s had worked on before,” Vermeil said. “The doctor said the knee is stronger and tighter today than it was when we signed him originally. But it doesn’t mean he’s not sore.”

Taylor Moeder intercepted a pass and Griffin also blocked a punt. Other Eagles with good defensive games were Travis Horinek, Rocque Russell, Sam Kendrick and Travis White.

Following the game, a 20-play fifth quarter was played. Quarterback Corbin Stephens scored on a two-yard run.

Coach John Miles was pleased with the team’s performance.

“We told the players after the game that this was the first time a seventh grade team had recorded a victory over a combined seventh and eighth grade team,” he said. “They should be very proud of that accomplishment.”

The Colby Middle School seventh grade football team saw its record drop to 2-3 on Monday, Oct. 3 with a 22-6 loss to the Burlington Cougars.

The young Eagles scored in the first quarter on a 67-yard run by Ryan Parker. The seventh grade’s offense stalled the rest of the game.

The Eagles were lead on defense by Drew White and Rocque Russell recovering fumbles.

Other players with good defensive games were Sam Kendrick, Andrew Flanagan, Kale Arnberger and Nathan Quagliano.
