

A new year means new books at Pioneer Memorial Library

Happy New Year! Join us Wednesday for the first Booked for Lunch of 2006. Janice Frahm will be reviewing the book "The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-time" by Mark Haddon. The title itself is curious enough. The review will take place over the lunch hour beginning at noon and lunch will be served!

We are starting the year off right again a new shipment of books. Many of you probably know the name Dave Pelzer. Pelzer wrote the book "A Child Called It" about his horribly abusive youth. Since that time, he has written a number of books about triumphing over his setbacks.

Dave Pelzer's latest book published in 2005 is "Help Yourself for Teens: Real-Life Advice for Real-Life Challenges." Dave uses his abusive childhood experiences as a springboard to motivate teenagers on how to rise above their circumstances. His advice focuses on three key concepts: facing current and past problems, realizing the importance of decisions, and never giving up on oneself. The key to success for any person, Dave argues, is realizing that all of the power is in one's own hands.

An even higher power however, is that which we cannot see. In the book "Not in Kansas Anymore: A Curious Tale of How Magic is Transforming America," award winning author Christine Wicker examines a burgeoning group of spiritualists including witches, pagans, voodoos, and hoodoos. Wicker's quest leads her to voodoo temples in New Orleans, underground spiritual societies, a witches, coven in a Salem graveyard and a self-determined "elven" family. In this book, Christine Wicker has a simple mission: to separate fact from fiction, the real deal from the hocus pocus.

And speaking of magic, try "The Year of Magical Thinking" by Joan Didion. In a matter of weeks, everything that author Joan had assumed to be true in life went completely by the wayside.

Her daughter, Quintana fell ill with what was thought to be the flu, went into shock, was induced into a coma and then placed on life support. Within a matter of days, Joan's partner of 40 years John Gregory Dunne died unexpectedly of a massive coronary. Quintana came through the coma shortly after her father's death only to collapse again two months later from a massive hematoma two months later.

Through it all, Joan was forced to rethink everything she knew of life and from those thoughts springs her newest book "The Year of Magical Thinking".

Don't forget to appreciate those you love this year. Happy 2006!
