Rexford native visits Guatemala

Mike and Jannell (nee Dible) Garten's son, Cory just returned from a week in Guatemala. The hospital in Pontiac, Mich., where Cory is in his first year of Internal Medicine residency, sponsors an outreach program each year. A group of residents go to Guatemala and provide medical services to the many outlying village residents who have little or no access to medical care.

The daily "clinics" may be held in a school or vacant building and the lines...and days are long. Cory helped treat every age group, from the very elderly to the babes-in-arms and every age in between. He found it to be a very rewarding and enlightening experience. Cory Garten is Kenneth and Rhelda Dible's grandson and the nephew of Jennifer Scott.

Northern Arizona trip
Jennifer Scott and Paula McDaniel just returned from a 10-day trip to northern Arizona. They picked up Paula's cousin Louise Holt in Colorado Springs on March 17. They spent two days at the Hualapai Indian Reservation Lodge in Peach Springs, Ariz. and took the only vehicle road to the bottom of the western Grand Canyon. From there, they went to the South Rim of the Grand Canyon, where they encountered six inches of snow upon check-in.

While they had a room right on the rim, the Canyon could not be seen because of the snow. The next day was beautiful, however, with awesome cloud formations throughout the Canyon. They traveled out the eastern exit of the Canyon, across the Navajo Indian Reservation to Canyon de Chelly National Park.

This canyon is anywhere from 1,000-1,000 feet deep with many cliff dwellings visible in the cuts of the red sandstone. The canyon is outstanding, but not a really well known site...well worth visiting. From there, they went on to the Monument Valley and then into Utah to the Arches National Monument.

From there, on across Colorado to Denver International where Louise had her return flight to Austin, Texas. A phenomenal trip!

Community Happenings
Samantha Allen and Lonnie Mohr were married Saturday, April 8th at the Rexford Community Church with Pastor Lane Purcell officiating the ceremony at 6:00pm. A reception followed at the Shepherd's Staff Main Center.
