State launching tipline to battle underage drinking

To continue raising awareness of the serious issue of underage drinking in Kansas, the Kansas Department of Transportation (KDOT) has launched a statewide underage drinking tipline, 1-866-MustB21 (1-866-687-8221). Funding and oversight of the tipline will be by KDOT's Bureau of Traffic Safety, the state's custodian of EUDL (Enforcing Underage Drinking Laws) funds from the U.S. Department of Justice.

The toll-free tipline operates 24-hours-a-day, seven days a week, and is now available for citizens to anonymously report parties involving underage drinking, plans to purchase alcohol for underage persons, and willingness of retailers to sell alcohol to underage persons.

"In 2005, 63 percent of Kansas students in grades eight through 12 reported having consumed alcohol in their lives," said Pete Bodyk, Chief of the Bureau of Traffic Safety.

"That's an eye-opening statistic that illustrates how pervasive underage drinking is throughout our state. 1-866-MustB21 is a way for each and every Kansas resident to help combat this threat, which for too long has been kept out of sight."

Research shows that, while young people drink somewhat less frequently than do adults, they tend to consume more per occasion — almost twice as much, in fact. Research also shows that the part of our brain responsible for judgment and impulse control — the prefrontal cortex — is not fully developed until about age 24, and that alcohol impairs this part of the immature brain more quickly than it does the mature brain.
