Miami drafts Kansas' Wayne Simien

LEAVENWORTH (AP) — A promise Wayne Simien made when he was 11 years old has been kept, thanks to the guaranteed money he'll receive as a first-round NBA draft choice.

"I got my dad a new fishing boat about three or four weeks ago," the All-American power forward said Tuesday night, a few minutes after the Miami Heat drafted him with the 29th pick in the first round.

"I promised him when I was 11 that when I made it to the next level I was going to get him a new bass boat because that was one of his passions when I was growing up."

Wayne Simien Sr. stood in the back of a small room as his son spoke at a news conference in Warren Middle School, a short drive from his home here.

"I remember when you said it," said the elder Simien, smiling broadly.

It had been a long night for Simien, a 6-foot-9 Big 12 player of the year and a first team All-American with Kansas. Three Big 12 players were drafted ahead of him; Antoine Wright of Texas A&M, Joey Graham of Oklahoma State and, in a bit of a surprise, Linus Kleiza of Missouri.

Simien insisted he was not nervous before Miami called his name. He said Miami had called earlier in the evening and told him they would take him with their late first-round pick if he were still available.

"I'm really excited," he told about 200 family and friends who had gathered at the school. "I'm ecstatic. I'm right where I'm supposed to be."

He will join one of the best front lines in the NBA, anchored by Shaquille O'Neal.

"I was going to be pleased with any team I went to," he said. "Going to a winning organization, a championship-contending team with one of the most dominant players ever to play the game — you couldn't ask for a better pick."

Simien, although hampered by injuries that caused him to miss 32 games in his four-year career, established himself as one of the finest players in the Jayhawks' storied history.

He averaged 24 points and more than 10 rebounds as a senior and set a school record by hitting 34 straight free throws.

He worked out for 16 different teams before the draft but Miami was not one of them.

As he spoke to the media, a restless crowd of fans waited impatiently in the gym for Simien to speak to them. Finally, the crowd's chant of, "We want Wayne! We want Wayne!" became so loud he could hardly be heard.

"I had no idea there were going to be this many people here," he said, smiling. "I didn't expect this big of a showing. I really appreciate everyone being here."

Sweet Thunder wins

Colby's 16 and Under Sweet Thunder team walked away with first place medals at last weekend's Colby Invitational with four wins and no losses.

The team racked up an impressive 42 runs and allowed no runs the entire weekend.

Pitchers Logan Wark and Danielle Pettibone took the wins against the Norton 18 & Unders in a 9-0 win, Burlington Cougars 16U (9-0), Garden City Dusters 16U (13-0), and the Wray Eagles 16U (11-0).

This championship improved Colby's record to 14-2 so far this season.

The team roster is; Brittany Anderson of Hill City, Kelsey Normandin of Plainville, Danielle Pettibone and Erika Gonzales, both of Goodland; Tara Powell, Kiri Kendrick, Lindsay Frahm, Brena Jones, Jordan Krzycki, Logan Wark and Ashley Schippers all of Colby. Head coach is Joe Anderson and assistants Susan Wark and Jay Pettibone lead the team.

Thunder will play at Hill City this weekend for its annual July 4th tournament.

Tigers running across Kansas

Fort Hays State University cross country coach Jason McCullough will attempt to have his team run across Kansas.

The Tiger Distance Project, aimed at fundraising for the FHSU cross country, will consist of a 462-mile trek across Kansas from the Colorado border to the Missouri River on the Missouri border.

"We are basically traveling from Kanorado to Atchison via the backroads. We will be traveling through several small Kansas," McCullough said.

Towns include: Kanorado,

Ruleton, Goodland, Brewster, Colby, Gem, Rexford, Moreland, Hill City, Bogue, Damar, Plainville, Hunter, Delphos, Miltonvale, Idana, Clay Center, Walsburg, Randolph, Olsburg, Fostoria, Onaga, Havensville, Holton, Effingham, Farmington and Atchison.

The Run Across Kansas is a relay-style event that may be the first of its kind in Kansas. Similar to the Bike Across Kansas, members will traverse the state from west to east.

"Our event will consist of two runners, with two support bikes alongside the runners at all times," McCullough said.

As many as 17 runners are expected to participate in the event. Each athlete will cover five to 15 miles per day, based on ability. The group will start each day at 6:30 a.m. and cover anywhere from 71 miles to 107 miles per day.

Wimbledon showdown

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Back in the Wimbledon semifinals, defending champion Maria Sharapova giggled at her good fortune.

The 18-year-old Russian benefited from two lucky bounces at the end Tuesday and advanced by beating compatriot Nadia Petrova 7-6 (6), 6-3.

Sharapova's opponent Thursday will be two-time champion Venus Williams, who reached her first Grand Slam semifinal in two years by beating Mary Pierce 6-0, 7-6 (10). Williams, bidding for her fifth major title and her first since 2001, overcame five set points in the tiebreaker to eliminate Pierce.

"I feel like I deserve to be in the semifinal," Williams said. "I feel like when I play my best, I'm still a step ahead for sure."

Sharapova was struggling to serve out the final game in her quarterfinal when she clipped the net on consecutive points — and won both. The first allowed her to save the only break point she faced.

"I told the ball to hit the net and roll over," she said with a laugh. "That comes with experience. ... I thanked the fairy for taking the ball and bringing it over the net."

The other semifinal will match top-ranked Lindsay Davenport, the 1999 champion, against No. 3-seeded Amelie Mauresmo.
