

Fabrizius wins modified feature at Thomas County Speedway

By Eric Gaede
Thomas County Raceway

Racing resumed at the Thomas County Speedway Sunday after the July 9 races were canceled because of rain.

A slight breeze and warm temperatures made for a smooth dry-slick track for the racers to adjust for.

Modifieds

John Fabrizio won from the pole in a quick race that only had one caution. Jeremy Zorn and Doug Holzmeister were right on his bumper the whole race for second and third.

Brady Coen tried the low line all race but couldn't edge ahead of them and finished fourth. Darren DeLoach did get the low groove to work and was the hard charger of the race coming from 10th to fifth position.

Last year's super stock racers Justen Beakley, Ronnie Hill, and Wheat Lippelmann finished sixth through eighth. Nineteen cars started the main.

Stock Cars

Brad Wagoner used a loaner car to get a win in a division he will be returning to in the future. Wagoner got past Jason Rogers a couple laps from the finish.

John Fabrizio, right, posed after winning the modified feature category Sunday at the Thomas County Speedway. Next races will be held Aug. 4-5 during the Thomas County Fair.

Rogers finished second after leading the race until that point. Travis Towns was right with them for third place.

The Mike Meyer and Tom Nelson finished a close fourth and fifth. Seven stocks started the main with some bad luck ending Brent Beckman's and Mike Giesenhagen's night in the heats.

Bombers

Travis Branum got his third main event win in a row and has really turned his season around.

Jeremy Blackwill tried everything to get around him but came up short for second.

Matt Giesenhagen was third and Brent Moss gained on his points lead and finished fourth. Ron Haremza and Matt Morris rounded out the top six.

Mike Nurdyke had his first start and finished seventh. Troy

Plummer finished eighth. Allen Kurth came in ninth with Allen Snethen finishing 10th. Seventeen cars started the main.

Econos

The econo class main event was again dominated by the Jeff Doty, with Alex West coming in second. JR Wolfrum was third.

Jason McClung, Lee Hagman

and Chad Fields rounded out the top six.

Seven econos started the main.

The next races will be the ninth annual F&M Insurance Modified Shootout Aug. 4-5 during the Thomas County Fair. Prize is $5,000.

Bonds' trainer prefers jail

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Lawyers for Barry Bonds' personal trainer say he'd rather go back to prison for a third time than take part in the grand jury investigation of his childhood friend for tax evasion and perjury.

Greg Anderson is expected to be called Thursday before a new grand jury investigating the San Francisco Giants slugger. Anderson is expected to renew his vow of silence.
