Brewster graduate helps unveil logo

A former Brewster resident and graduate student at Kansas State University in Manhattan was one of 43 unveiling a new logo on the television program “Good Morning America.”

Sarah Evert, a Brewster High School graduate and agronomy student at the university, took part, with Willie the Wildcat, alongside the logo.

“The morning ABC news and talk show is displaying its new logo in unusual settings around the country and at K-State students carved the logo into a small field of alfalfa and painted the bare ground with the “Good Morning America” logo colors earlier this month,” a media spokesperson at K-State said.

The students, faculty and staff participating from the College of Agriculture, Wheat State Agronomy Club and Agriculture Ambassadors were pictured in the field for the filming. The segment aired recently on “Good Morning America.”

In addition to Evert, the following individuals included: Kelsey McGie and Ashley Helms, both of Iola; Shelby Haag and Lucas Haag, both of Bartley, Neb.; Jennifer Wellnitz of Neosho; Kacy Coulter of Tyler, Texas; Holly Weber of Milan; Lindsey Voet, of Home; Heidi Eickman of Belleville; Leah Ferdinand of Reading; Cammie

Corrections

An article which ran in the Colby Free Press on Wednesday, Sept. 27, inadvertently listed the incorrect date farmers need to certify wheat, barley and oats. The correct final date to certify is May 31.

In a front page article in Thursday's Free Press, the word “inmate” was left out of the headline regarding Machine Gun Kelly's former Alcatraz next door cell mate, Willie Radkay.

The Colby Free Press wants to maintain an accurate record of our town. Please report any error or lack of clarity in a news story to us at 462-3963.
