Cheyenne County's annual trail ride Sunday

By Karen Krien

St. Francis Herald

Riders are urged to have their horses saddled up and be ready to ride at 2 p.m., Sunday, for the 16th Cheyenne County Trail Ride.

The two- to five-hour ride will be held at the Albert Keller Farms (formerly Walter Gorthy Ranch) located northeast of St. Francis.

Those on the ride will also be able to donate to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

"Donations will be accepted for the kids who would like to saddle up but can't," said Sharon Olofson, coordinator.

"The weather is supposed to be in the 70s should be pleasant way to spend an afternoon."

Each year, the ride is in a different area and, this year is the first time for this particular area.

Gary Cooper said it will be a nice ride along a spring creek.

"We are hoping for some autumn colors on the trees and there are some nice hills to make the ride more interesting," he said.

Directions

To reach the destination from St. Francis, turn north on Benton Street off U.S. 36 and gravel 3 miles, around the curve northeast, they north a little over 1 mile to Road S.

Turn east and follow the winding road approximately 5 miles to Road W; turn east and go 3.75 miles to the dead end; turn left and follow trail road to parking area.

From Wheeler, go 9 miles north to the dead end on Road 19; turn east on Road W and go 3.75 miles to the dead end; turn left and follow trail road to parking area.

From Benkelman, go south on K-161 to 2 mile south of the Nebraska/

Kansas state line to Road DD; west 2 miles, then southwest approximately 6 miles on Road FAS 115 (River Road) just past the old schoolhouse; turn southeast on Road 22 and then around 4 miles south to Road W; turn east and go 3/4 miles to the dead end, turn left and follow trail road to parking area.

From Haigler, go 8 miles east on U.S. 34 to Road 15 (Mills Hereford Ranch sign), then south approximately 10 miles to Road W (Douthitt Hereford sign); turn east and go 7.75 miles to the dead end, turn left and follow the trail road to the parking area.

Signs will be posted at various points.

Barbecue served afterwards

During the ride, the members of the Cheyenne County Historical Society will provide refreshments. Afterward, the 4-H Horse Club will be serving a barbecue with the meat being prepared by Doug Ross.

Developmental Services announces awards

Many people from Colby and around the area were honored at a recent Developmental Services of Northwest Kansas luncheon in Hays.

The event, which was held last week, recognized staff, those served by the service and a variety of people supporting the organization's efforts, said Steve Keil, director of development in Hays.

Deni Schissler of Colby was one of the staff members recognized for years of service.

Other staff members receiving awards for service in the immediate area included:

- Theresa Hall, Janice Hayes, Nancy Jackson, Vicki Kogl, and Vanessa Merz, all of Atwood.
- Lorna Buehler, and Linda Pope of Hoxie.
- Ed Ballinger, David Lawson, Corinne Mueller, David Musgrove, Nancy Parmer, Lance VanKooten, Les Wilson, and Leroy Wyatt and Constance Yakish of Norton.
- Laura Dorn, Gordon Husted, Shannon Koon, and Christine Urban of Oakley.

Special recognition went to three staff members for their outstanding work with people having disabilities, Keil said.

Those recognized included Darrell Voos of Russell; Cody Marintzer of Hays; and Jennifer Unger of Oberlin. Each of those three were presented with Employee of the Year awards.

"Awards were also given to staff members who recently received practitioner and mentor certifications," he said. Those staff receiving awards in this area included:

- Tammy Horinek, Barb Wolters of Atwood; Sarah Durham, Joanna Eagleburger, Sandy Gottschalk, Delberta Miller of Norton; June Kearns - Majors and Connie Singer of Oakley.
- "Two $100 scholarship awards were presented to Jeff Springer and Collene Haehn of Hays," Keil said.
- "These awards were given from the Jereilyn Becker Memorial Scholarship Fund for employees studying at their local university or college in a field related to serving people with developmental disabilities."

Two members of the organization's board of directors were recognized for their many years of service.

Those include Art Mai of Sharon Springs, serving 25 years on the board and outgoing board member, Betty Deutscher of Ellis with 15 years on the board.

Many awards were also given to individuals served by the developmental services for their employment achievements and greater independence. The first awards were for those people who have been consistently employed in their communities.

In Colby, Stephen Mackey and Kendall Morris were honored.

Atwood recipients were Denis Burk, Linda Cline, Cheri Hutchison, Ernest 'Jr' Katt, J. Lynn Lohofener and Mark Reuber.

Chad Ostmeyer and Wayne Walz were recognized from Oakley.

Two people served by developmental services were recognized for more to a less restrictive environment in the community and showing greater independence.

They were J. Lynn Lohofener of Atwood and LaVerne Gitchel of Hill City.
