Bowl contest narrows to top six

With three bowl games remaining, six people have a chance to win the Colby Free Press/Country Advocate - KXXX 790 AM/KQLS 100.3 The Ride - Western Distributing college bowl contest.

Each bowl game is given a point value. After the end of the 32 bowls, whoever scored the most points wins a trip to the Colorado mountains.

Rod Huffman, from Oakley, leads with 47 points. The following people are tied for second with 46 points. Jack Elliott and Scott King, Colby; Morgan Kauten and Taylor Meder, Norton and Lance Stoll, Selden.

This weekend's International and GMAC bowls are each valued at one point. The BCS Championship game is five points.

In addition to the individual winner, the contest will also honor the town that had the minimum numbers of entries and scored the most points. Fourteen towns are represented in the contest. The winning town will receive a traveling trophy. It is still too complex to know about the town standings.

The contest concludes Jan. 8 with the BCS Championship game.

Penguins may move to Kansas

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh owner Mario Lemieux emerged from a "very positive" meeting with Gov. Ed Rendell and local leaders Thursday night without hinting whether the team will stay or move to Kansas City.

Hours after touring the under-construction Sprint Center in Kansas City, Lemieux returned to Pittsburgh for his first in-person meeting with government officials since a plan to fund a $290 million arena with casino money was rejected. Neither side offered specifics about the so-called Plan B deal to build a replacement for Mellon Arena, but Lemieux did not appear disappointed by the talks.

"Hopefully, we'll move forward in the next week or so and really evaluate where we're going. but I'm very pleased with both meetings today," Lemieux said. "I've always been very optimistic (about staying in Pittsburgh). I've been here for 20-some years. But we have to evaluate all of our options and that's why we went to Kansas City to look at what they had to offer."

Rendell did not talk to reporters after the meeting, but Allegheny County chief executive Dan

Onorato said, "It was very productive. ... We're going to continue to negotiate and, hopefully, the next time you hear from all of us we can give you details."

Pittsburgh Mayor Luke Ravenstahl said another meeting with the Penguins has not been planned, but that discussions would continue. Both sides promised they would not negotiate in public.

Lemieux, one of most popular figures in Pittsburgh sports history, does not want to move the franchise — and the NHL does not want to abandon the city — unless there is no other option.

But after seven unsuccessful years seeking a new arena, he is negotiating from a position of strength because of Kansas City's strong bid.

The Penguins, one of pro sports' hottest properties because of young stars Sidney Crosby and Evgeni Malkin, would pay no construction costs or rent in Kansas City. They also would become partners in the building, and thus gain access to all revenues streams, with no payment required. Initially, a $27 million payment for those rights was discussed.

The initial Plan B proposal in Pittsburgh, made last March, called for the Penguins to pay $8.5 million up front, plus about $4 million per year. However, the Kansas City offer is all but certain to force Pittsburgh to offer a more lucrative deal, and Rendell said before Thursday's meeting there would be a more aggressive offer.

Earlier in the day, Lemieux, billionaire partner Ron Burkle and team president Ken Sawyer toured the $276 million Sprint Center, which is due to open in October without an anchor major sports team tenant.

William "Boots" Del Biaggio III, a San Jose, Calif.-based venture capitalist and Lemieux acquaintance who nearly bought the Penguins in 2005, is expected to buy the team if it moves to Kansas City. He and Lemieux are partners in a minor league hockey team.

"We are not trying to steal the Penguins," said Tim Leiweke, president of Anschutz Entertainment Group, the Sprint Center's operating group. "We have been very respectful of their process. We understand that this is Pittsburgh's to lose, and we respect that."

Shockers snap streak

WICHITA (AP) — Karon Bradley scored a career-high 21 points Thursday as Wichita State beat Bradley 84-63 to snap a four-game losing streak.

The Shockers (10-4, 1-2 Missouri Valley Conference) had not won since starting the season 9-0 and rising as high as No. 8 in the polls.

Bradley, who scored all but six of his points in the second half, was 8-of-10 from the field, including 5-of-6 from 3-point range.

Gal Mekel and P.J. Cousinard each had 13 points for the Shockers, and Matt Braeuer added 12.

Will Franklin led the Braves (10-6, 1-3) with 19 points and Daniel Ruffin had 18.

Ryan Martin didn't score but had a game-high 10 rebounds for the Shockers, who outrebounded Bradley 37-21.

Wichita State led 43-28 at halftime. The Braves scored the first five points in the second half to pull to within 10, but that was as close as they could as the Shockers built their second-half lead to as many as 24 points.

Investigators find vehicle to look for clues in shooting

DENVER (AP) — Investigators scoured a spray-painted 1998 Chevrolet Tahoe impounded earlier in the day for clues that might lead them to Darrent Williams' killer.

Police said they believe the SUV might have been used in a New Year's Day drive-by shooting that killed the Denver Broncos' cornerback and wounded two other people. Passers-by spotted the vehicle, parked south of Denver International Airport, and called police anonymously, police spokesman Sonny Jackson said.

Detectives were canvassing the remote neighborhood of snow-covered empty lots and industrial buildings under construction.
