One pass and one shot in what felt like one second was all Hoxie needed to beat Colby. Hoxie made a full court pass and lay up at the buzzer to beat Colby 33-31 Friday. Colby and Hoxie went back and forth in the second half after being tied 15 all at halftime. The Eagles slipped with a turnover in the last few seconds of regulation forcing the game into overtime. Colby struggled to take the lead because of turnovers. “We had a hard time taking care of the ball at the end, and couldn’t find a way to win,” said Sheets. Trey Barnett, a senior, led Colby with 12 points. Close behind him was Anthony Rohr, also a senior, with eight points. Colby made 5-10 free throws. Sheets was pleased with the level of competition the Eagles put forth.. It was a close game, which made watching it more enjoyable. “It was a fun game to watch, but it would have been a little bit more fun if we could have pulled off the victory,” said Sheets. Colby is 3-6 overall. Colby’s annual Orange and Black Classic starts 3 p.m. Thursday. Colby head coach Derek Bissitt was very pleased with the outcome of this game. “It was a good win for us, they have been a quality team for the past three years so it was good for us to win,” said Bissitt. Colby senior Ashley Barnes lead her team with 15 points, followed by senior Rishonna Martin with 13 points. Tasha Wagoner, a junior, scored 11 points. The Lady Eagles made 27-63 field shots compared to Hoxie’s 15-34 shots from the field. A big factor in the Lady Eagles victory was the ability to force 36 turnovers. They were on top of their defensive game. “We really got after it defensively, I was very pleased. It was an excellent game,” said Bissitt. Colby is 8-1 and play in the Orange and Black Tournament Thursday.

Eagle girls overpower Hays

Hays High was too quick and shot too well for Colby as Hays won 67-44 Saturday in Colby. According to Colby head coach Beau Sheets, the Eagles had a hard time keeping up with the Hays High Indians. “We had a tough time matching their quickness and outside shooting. We had an inability to use our pressure defense on them,” said Sheets. Sheets thinks Colby may have had such a big loss because of the last-second loss to Hoxie the night before. Levi Schlick, a sophomore, lead the Eagles with 14 points. Trey Barnett was close behind with 11 points. The boys struggled to match the outside shots that Hays made. The Indians scored 10 three-point shots. With the 22nd annual Orange and Black Classic this week, the Eagles have a lot of work in the next few days. “We have defensively really got to pick it up. As for offensively, we need a lot more movement and aggressiveness,” said Sheets. Overall, the Eagles were unable to bring the forcefulness needed to pull off a win on Saturday. “Hays were a very good team, but we didn’t play well at all,” said Sheets. Colby is 3-7. Girls The Lady Eagles played a tough defensive game against the Hays Lady Indians, Saturday, pulling off a win 46-34 in Colby. “We had a very good defensive game. They didn’t handle our full-court press very well,” said Colby head coach Derek Bissitt. The Lady Eagles were able to force 23 turnovers. Colby junior Lissa Mazanek lead the team with 20 points, and also had eight rebounds. Ashley Barnes, a senior, helped the team with 13 points and five steals. Junior Paige Stephens had nine rebounds. Both teams struggled to make the majority of their shots. It was evident they were tired from other games the week before. “You could tell that both teams had played the night before because neither team shot well, said Bissitt. The Colby-Hays game was originally scheduled Dec. 19 but postponed because of weather. For the most part, the Bissitt was pleased with the way the girls played. “Hays beat us last year, they are a 5A team. It was a good win for us and we definitely got better this weekend,” said Bissitt. To prepare for the Orange and Black Classic the girls need to improve their shooting skills. “We are getting to where we need to be defensively, but we need to learn to shoot the ball better,” said Bissitt. Bissitt is anticipating the best for the upcoming tournament and encourages everybody to come out and support the Lady Eagles. “There will be very quality competition this year. I hope people come out to support the team, and for us to go on to victory,” said Bissitt. The Lady Eagles are 9-1.
