More scorers will help golf team

Who finishes first for a golf team is important, said Colby High boy's coach Tom Bowen.

But he also wants to know who can come in at the end — and still score.

"We've got to find a fourth and fifth player to be consistent," Bowen said. "You take the top four scores, but I'd like to have to others."

Bowen said that fourth score is important for the team's finish. Having more players with the potential of scoring gives the team more strength, Bowen said.
