Memorials are suggested in her name and may be sent to First National Bank of Burlington, Colo., Sunflower Bank of Colby or may be left at Harrison Chapel in Colby.

Vinegar useful around the house as ant deterrant

By Heloise

Dear Heloise: I found an unusual use for vinegar. While repotting a plant, I discovered that an army of ants had moved into the dirt. I poured a 50/50 solution of vinegar and water on the dirt — they were sent to ant heaven! — Cathy, via e-mail

Cathy, your vinegar solution will not only keep ants out of your plant dirt, but if you wipe down your kitchen counters (do not use on marble, granite or specialty countertops) with a solution of half vinegar and half water, you will also discourage the little buggers from following the scent trail left by other ants. There are zillions of uses for vinegar in the kitchen, house, garden, etc. You'll find an alphabetical list of these amazing hints for just about everything in my Fantabulous Vinegar Hints & More pamphlet. Order one by sending $4 and a long, self-addressed, stamped (58 cents) envelope to: Heloise/ Vinegar, P.O. Box 795001, San Antonio, TX 78279-5001. To remove shampoo buildup, rinse your hair with a solution of 1 tablespoon vinegar to 1 cup water. To kill weeds and unwanted grass between pavers, just pour on a little vinegar! They'll be gone! — Heloise

Heloise Update: Our much-loved vinegar does nothing to help a sunburn. I know. I've printed (and thought) this for years, as have many of you. But new research says nope, it doesn't help. Sorry, folks.

Brewster families gather for reunions

Betty Jo Baird

● Brewster Correspondent

Several family reunions were held this past weekend. The first one was the Luckert reunion held by Bud and Tess Luckert. There were 38 present. George and Roberta Luckert, Don and Becky Luckert, Wayne and Debbie Luckert, Sarah Luckert all of Brewster. Bud and Tess Luckert, Goodland, John Luckert, and Ryan Luckert of Colby.

The other reunion was the Fulhendorf reunion which was held at the Lions Club in Vona, Colo. Those attending from Brewster were Willard Moore, Wanda Fulwider and Leanne Carney. Around 60 attended from around the country. Coming home the three of them stopped in Goodland for a birthday party for Dawson Ensign the grandson of Leanne Carney. The Fulhendorf's are Willard's and Wanda's mothers relatives.

La Velle and Erma Palmgren attended the wedding of their grandson, Jason Bahe and Jessica Mosness on Sunday, June 10 in Burlington, Colo. Jason is the son of Deneyce and Mike Bahe of Goodland. Jessica is the daughter of Tammy Mosness of Burlington.

Cliff Fox's twin sister passed away on Sunday, June 10. She'd lived in Denver. Our prayers go out to Cliff, Paula and family.

The A-Cafe seems to be doing well, after opening last week, and it's nice to have it in town again.

If you have not visited the Brewster Library and Museum lately, this summer is a good time to do so.

There are wonderful things in the museum to enjoy and the history of the surrounding area is amazing. You could spend hours in it, and Betty Wolfe is a source of so much information. Check it out.

Matt Allen and his two daughters, Kyleigh and Sophiaspent Thursday evening and Friday with Jr. and Ceci Allen. Matt played golf Friday at the Sacred Heart Tournament in Colby, with Clint Horinek, Aaron Horinek and Ryan Allen. Sarah Ginna Horinek spent Friday visiting.

Abuse is abuse. There are many forms of abuse, but at the core, they are all the same — a violation of your divinity.

Sometimes it is hard to determine exactly what is abusive and what is not. Just for the record, let's be clear. There is verbal, mental, emotional, physical, sexual, and spiritual abuse. They take the forms of words, silence, actions non actions, suggestions, recommendations, and overt displays of an un-loving nature. They result in your felling sad, ugly, worthless, ashamed, guilty, and at fault. If you are in a relationship trying to figure out whether or not you are being abused, trust your first thought—you are. Even if you're not, the fact that you have to ask means that you are in trouble.

Menlo alumni members meet for dinner

Menlo alumni, families and friends met at the Comfort Inn Convention Center in Colby for their annual reunion on May 26. Thirty-four were in attendance for dinner and visiting.

Vera Sloan presided at a business meeting following dinner and opened the meeting with a research report of change of economics, especially of gas prices being $.19 a gallon in years past of our lifetime as graduates.

Minutes of 1977 meeting were read and note made of 103 attending from 12 states.

Minutes were then read from 2006 year.

Deceased members since 2006 meeting remembered were Ray

McKinney, Anna Geerdes, Lucille Boggs, Glen Bailey, Verleen Beckman Duffey, George Keely, Jean Ann Klaurens Hoppas, and Al Dickman.

Correspondence from those unable to attend was read.

For entertainment, Vera Sloane read an article titled, "Class Reunion Experience."

Honored classes were 1937, 1947, 1957

1937 Class Ethel Keith Krieg of Topeka.

1947 Class Cleo Duffey of Menlo.
