Doctored photos a 'disservice'

By Heloise

Dear Heloise: I am a faithful reader and love your column in the daily Spokesman-Review in Spokane, Wash. However, I have to take exception to your column about adding people to wedding pictures, etc. As a genealogist and family historian, I feel very strongly that producing images that are not correct does a real disservice to the generations to come. In the future, no one will be able to prove anything if he or she can't trust the pictures that are produced today. I'm sure your suggestion was made with the best of intentions, but I hope you'll reconsider. — Doris Woodward, Spokane, Wash. Doris, I agree with you! The letter you are referring to was from a reader who suggested first holding an object in all of the photos that symbolizes the person who could not be at the event (in this case, a soldier who was deployed) and then adding the person via computer. It also said that some people make a photo blowup of the person and hold it in place. In this case, we would hope that someone in the future would be able to tell that the "face" had been added. A special notation can be made on the backs of all the photos. Actually, I don't think you can trust many print photos today, as anyone with a computer can fix up, take out or add! — Heloise P.S.: There is much discussion in the journalism world on this very subject. Emergency contacts Dear Heloise: Keep a list of emergency contact numbers in the glove box with your motor-vehicle registration. List family, friends, a pastor or someone who should be contacted in case of a serious injury in an accident. — A Reader in Michigan Easy cleaning Dear Heloise: You know those moist wipes for windows, toilets or wood? They're great, but sometimes I have a hard time holding on to them. We have an RV with lots of mirrors, so fingerprints show up everywhere! I've tried several things. I now open the moist towel and place it on a paper towel, and use it that way. It works great — doesn't fold up or fall out of my hand. Hope someone else will find this helpful. — Judy Wilcox, Salem, Ore. How right you are! Here's a hint to save on cleaning mirrors: Use a dry microfiber towel. There are a multitude of them available, and boy, will you be happy. — Heloise Tissue box reuse Dear Heloise: Instead of throwing away those empty tissue boxes, save them for the day a family member has a cold, and put it next to his or her box of tissues. When the person uses one, it can be pushed into the empty tissue box. Germs and viruses are contained, and no one has to touch the soiled tissue. — Charlotte, Little Rock, Ark. Window shades FYI: Don't toss old roll-up window shades. They are perfect to use as a dropcloth when painting. Then they can be reused or replaced. — Heloise Send a money-saving or timesaving hint to Heloise, P.O. Box 795000, San Antonio, TX 78279-5000, or you can fax it to 1-210-HELOISE or e-mail it to Heloise(at)Heloise.com. I can't answer your letter personally but will use the best hints received in my column. (c)2007 by King Features Syndicate Inc.
