Eagle boy's tennis team finishes third at Russell

In their second tournament of the season, the Colby Eagle tennis team finished third out of five teams Monday in Russell.

Colby's #1 doubles team of Gray Henry and Jeremy Harter and the #2 doubles team of Tim Howard and Jared Bixenman both finished in third place. Both singles players, Cody Anderson and Jordan Hockersmith, took fourth.

Harter and Henry finished the day with a 1-2 record. Their lone victory was over Russell's A.J. Vonlehe and Nathan Krause, 6-1. They were defeated by Ellinwood's Ethan Thomas and Corey Detter 6-4 and Ellsworth's Braden Gatt and Chris Buchholz, 6-2.

Howard and Bixenman went 2-2. They won a pair of 6-1 matches of Russell's team of Alan Rounke and Dylan Riedel and Larned's Granden Cregger and Cody Teegerstrom.

Their two losses came to Ellinwood and Ellsworth, also by a 6-1 count.

Ellinwood's team featured Aaron Koetter and Cody Bryant. Playing for Ellsworth was Ryan Manes and Gabe Paull.

Both Eagle singles players finished with a 1-3 mark.

In #1 singles, Anderson won his first match over Cole Clawson of Ellinwood 6-3, but lost his final three matches to Ellsworth's Kevin Davis (6-1), Russell (6-2) and Ethan Deckert of Larned, 6-1.

Hockersmith started his afternoon with a tough 6-5 (7-9) loss to Ellinwood's Kyle Corbett. He followed that win another close loss to Ellsworth's Jordan Seitz 6-4. Hockersmith rebounded in his third match to defeat Russell's Kale Morris, but was blanked in his final match by Larned's Evan Dunn, 6-0.

The Eagles played earlier today at Goodland. Results will be available next week.

Jayhawk leaves

LAWRENCE (AP) — Brandon Rush is headed to the NBA for sure this time. Darrell Arthur may be going with him. Mario Chalmers? He hasn't made up his mind.

Two of Kansas' three biggest stars declared themselves eligible for the draft, less than two weeks after helping lead the Jayhawks to their first national title in 20 years.

Rush, who lost his college eligibility by declaring for the NBA draft a second time, is shopping for an agent.
