

Sudoku

This is a logic-based number placement puzzle. The goal is to enter a number, 1-9, in each cell in which each row, column and 3x3 region must contain only one instance of each numeral. The solution to today's puzzle is at the bottom of this page.

Dear Dr. Brothers: I am a nice lady in my early 40s. I have been divorced for almost 10 years now, and I enjoy my social life. I really am not too interested in meeting Prince Charming, yet I have an idea in the back of my mind that he is out there somewhere.

In the meantime, I would like of people they are before you other. to continue just looking.

My problem is with the dating Web sites.

I find that most of them want you to pinpoint what "department" you want your information to be in. There usually is a choice of Just Dating, Getting Serious or Brief Encounters. You get the idea.

I am really Just Dating, but since the Encounters in these places consistently attract more people, that's where I usually hang my hat. Does this sound appropriate to you? - T.R.

Dear T.R.: My dear, to me the whole idea of meeting people on ۲ the Internet is kind of strange, but I am trying to adjust to the realities of the new century!

I'm sure you are too. Apparently the days of having someone introduce two friends is rapidly fading, if it still exists at all. married. But enough reminiscing.

Dear L.B.: This is not a trivial problem — it's a train wreck waiting to happen. Your fiance loves his "mutts" and will want you all to be one big, happy family, where you all love each

The result could be two much two owners who enjoy them.

I think it would be a great way to start your marriage: replacing a potentially ugly atmosphere with one of loving compromise. If you're not willing to go that far, you'd better tell him now so that he can decide which of you is going to have to go.
