Serena Ehardt and David Zum Brunnen offer memories and songs from World War II in a show at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 22, in the Colby High School auditorium.

'War Bonds' to be Saturday

"War Bonds: The Songs and Letters of World War II" will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 22, in the Colby High School auditorium, sponsored by the Western Plains Arts Association. "War Bonds" is a musical journey through an era that redefined the world. This multi-media living history cabaret is interspersed with personal letters from the front and headline news of the period. The production is described as "a warm reminiscence and a harrowing reminder of a time when the whole world seemed upside down." Jane Lonon of the Ashe County Arts Council in North Carolina says, "War Bonds is a well-crafted work by two of the best in the business. It leaves audiences with smiles and tears." Award-winning artists David Zum Brunnen and Serena Ehardt fill the stage with wartime memories and tunes. Actual veterans' stories create a sentimental journey through the days when blackouts and rationing were a small sacrifice for freedom. The show explores the dark side of war and the strange juxtaposition of the light-hearted popular tunes of the time. Musical Director Julie Florin recreates a nostalgic score of familiar tunes. Twenty-two songs of the period lift the mood — even as the atrocities of war are described. Admission is by season ticket or at the door, $15 for adults and $8 for students.

Cattlemen's production challenges to be focus of extension meeting

We are in uncertain economic times, and this uncertainty has begun to reflect itself in volatile grain and livestock markets. K-State Research and Extension will help address these issues at a cattlemen's meeting at 6:30 p.m. Monday, Dec. 15 at the Graham County 4-H building in Hill City. Featured speakers include beef cattle experts Dr. Dale Blasi from Kansas State University, Dr. Craig Iwanski, owner of Central Veterinary Services, and Dr. Sandy Johnson, livestock specialist with K-State's Northwest Research and Extension Center in Colby. Dr. Blasi will talk about economical feeding strategies in an era of high feed cost. Dr. Iwanski will discuss calving management and offer tips to help stockmen have more calves to sell after weaning time. Dr. Johnson will discuss the recently enacted Country of Origin Labeling laws and what these mean to cattlemen. This meeting is free, but reservations are requested by Friday, Dec.

12. Call the Graham County Extension Office at (785) 421-3411.

Corrections

A photo caption on the front page of the Monday, Nov. 10, Colby Free Press entitled spelled the name of Thomas County Deputy Clerk Susie Guill incorrectly. This was a reporter's error. ☆☆☆☆ In the same paper, the date on Page 1 was incorrect. It should have been Monday, Nov. 10, not Nov. 11. This was a composition error. ☆☆☆☆ An article on the sports page of the Wednesday, Nov. 12, paper entitled "Three Lady Eagles played in All-Star Game Sunday" omitted the name of one player from the Northwest Kansas All-Star Game. Darra Stithem of Hoxie played in the game. This was a reporting error. ☆☆☆☆ The Colby Free Press wants to maintain an accurate record of our town. Please report any error or lack of clarity in a news story to us at 462-3963.

Resources honor veterans' gift

This week we celebrated Veterans' Day. On this day each year, we pause to show our gratitude to those who have served this nation at home and abroad.

Our veterans have played an important role in shaping our state's history, from those who fought to establish Kansas as a Free State in the Civil War, to today's soldiers who have returned home from Iraq and Afghanistan, and every soldier who has participated in the battles in between.

Veterans' Day reminds me of the service of my own father, John Gilligan, who fought in World War II along with his two brothers. All returned home safely, but one of my mother's two brothers, also World War veterans, made the ultimate sacrifice, and we honor his service and legacy.

It was a former Army general who grew up in Abilene who proclaimed the very first Veterans' Day. In his proclamation, President Dwight D. Eisenhower urged us to "remember the sacrifices of all those who fought so valiantly, on the seas, in the air and on foreign shores, to preserve our heritage of freedom, and let us reconsecrate ourselves to the task of promoting an enduring peace so that their efforts shall not have been in vain."

We need to remember those Kansans serving all over the world, still in harm's way, and keep them and their families and loved ones in our prayers. For all veterans have done for us and our country, they deserve not only our thanks, but our continued efforts to honor their service. That's why, here in Kansas, we've taken significant steps to help our military personnel from the time they begin their active duty to their transition back to this state as veterans

Our veterans have resources available to them from both the federal and state governments. Federal programs are administered by the Department of Veterans Affairs and more information can be found at www.va.gov. For a comprehensive list of Kansas services available for military personnel, military dependents and veterans, call the Kansas Commission on Veterans' Affairs at (785) 296-3976 or visit the Governor's Military Council website at www.gmc.ks.gov and click on the "Military Bill of Rights, Veterans and Families" link in the left column.

Through these federal and state services, we provide a support network to veterans not only on Veterans' Day, but every day of the year. It's the very least we can do.
