Nolan Brott will make his coaching debut on Friday night when Brewster High School boys basketball team faces Cheylin at 8 p.m. at home. Brott said he has been pleased with the way his team has practiced so far this season. "Practice has been really good," he said. "We are getting to know one another." He said he has been surprised by a few things he has seen in practice. "I've been surprised with how well the team moves and how well they play together," he said. Another thing that has been a surprise has been his team's quickness. Brewster's team will consist of three seniors, six juniors, two sophomores and a freshman. Returning seniors are Terry Junior Preston, Seth Carpenter and Chance Cranston. Coach Brott said the starting lineup for Friday's game will be Carpenter and juniors Seth Ackerman, Ryan Allen, Spencer Holm and Devan Selby.
