

Judging, parade are big attractions

One of the most popular places at any county fair is the washing stations (above). Contestants took turns washing their livestock to make sure they were in top condition for the judges. In addition to the livestock judging, the 4-H dog and dog agility show (above right) was held the week prior to the fair along with many other events. The time of the fair parade (right) was changed this year to the beginning of the week. 4-H clubs, county and city agencies, ag dealers and fair royalty all turned out to make the parade a successful kick-off to fair week.
