There are several funds that don't have designated uses, such as the Contingency Reserve, she have joined the group, including Norton, where the board voted to said, however it is already being used to cover some the shortfalls and delayed payments from the District voted not to join the same state.

"If the state's not going to pay us, then we have to have some money in the contingency to cover emergencies," the superintendent said.

The district has to cover its payroll and bills each month and has been using the fund to cover some of that. However, Harrison said, there is not enough in the fund to completely cover those areas without any state help.

Capital Outlay is another fund with some money, she added, but there is no way for the district to replenish it without raising taxes. The board has discussed levying a tax to put money into the fund, but has not yet made a decision.

For now, Harrison said, the administration is trying to get the word out about possible cuts, will be meeting with teachers soon to go over the talking points with them so that they have information in hand when discussing the issue with parents.

"Our first step is to get the word out about what's happening to us and exactly how much money we're losing," she said. "It will affect them - directly."

In other business, the board:

• Accepted the retirement of Colby High Principal Don Krebs, effective at the end of the school year. The board thanked him for his hard work.

'We're most pleased with the positive attitude that's been established at the high school," Frahm said.

Krebs, already a retiree, stepped in as interim principal last November after the board fired the previous principal, and stayed on for the 2009-2010 school year.

> "It's my hope that in several years, we'll be the Buehlers, that we'll dominate," he said.

• Heard Gabel report that 21 girls and 26 boys turned out for basketball and at least 40 for wrestling. He said he has been working on the schedules to reduce the numbers of trips each team takes without eliminating games. In some cases, he has scheduled games for two teams for the same day against the same school to eliminate an extra trip.

• Heard from Krebs that the high school's fall musical "Oklahoma!" was a hit. Fully a third of the student body was involved in the production, including those who worked behind the scenes. Krebs said they had an audience of 400 at the Thursday performance and 500 at the Friday performance.

Krebs said he was asked to supervise the students before one of performances, but he needn't have bothered since the kids were so well behaved.

"I can't say enough about them," he said.

Krebs also said the high school will be having a "Senior Night" where seniors and their parents can learn about college and student aid applications.

"May is going to be here before you know it," he said.

 Heard Middle School Principal Rob Ross say he had applied for the Kansas Association of School Administrator's Gold Standard Award, which recognizes schools that have met building-wide standards. The school won the award last year, and Ross said he is confident it will get the award this year as well.

· Heard Ross report that absences at the middle school are down from a month ago, but still higher than last year at this time. He said he suspects the worst of flu season is over.

· Heard from Grade School Principal Lance Krannawitter that the school's staff collected 390 receipts while working a night at the Colby McDonalds on Nov. 2, which amounted to 1,100 points that the school can use to "buy" school supplies from McDonalds. Krannawitter said the school could either save the points up for something large or split them up among each grade level.
