Sheriff's office, city to sell off equipment

The Thomas County sheriff's office will hold an auction at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Law Enforcement Center on Court Avenue to sell 22 vehicles of varying quality. Some of them even run.

Sheriff Rod Taylor said four or five of the vehicles are in working condition. The auction will be in the impound lot south of the center.

The City of Colby will also have some equipment for sale at the auction, including an old 1,000-gallon water tank, an old Gator conveyor-belt system, an old sewer rod, a three-point post-hole digger, a three-point drag blade, a three-point ripper, a concrete saw, a hand concrete saw, a small sewer auger "snake," an old 1,000-gallon oil tank, a homemade engine stand, an R12 recovery machine, an Allin scope for tune ups, a homemade "cherry picker" truck and miscellaneous parts. For information on these items, call Chris Bieker, city public works director, at 460-4420.

All items need to be removed from the property the day of the sale.

Board picks director as high school principal

This isn't the first time Gabel has been asked to fill in as high school principal. In November 2008 he stepped in after the school board terminated the contract of Principal Rocky Robbins. Gabel had been activities director and assistance high school principal since 2006. Before that, he was the wrestling coach and elementary school principal in St. Francis for many years.

Until December, when the district rehired Krebs. Krebs had been high school principal from 1995 to 1999, when he retired for the first time. In addition to many other jobs in education around Kansas, he was vice president and dean of community services at Colby Community College from 1971 to 1975.

Krebs was hired as interim principal for the rest of the 2008-2009 school year, but agreed to stay on another year. He announced his second retirement in November.

Kansas state courts start furloughs Friday

TOPEKA (AP) — Kansas courts will be closed Friday for the first of four days of unpaid leave for employees in response to state budget problems.

employees on three more Fridays, April 16 and 23 and May 7.

Supreme Court spokesman Ron Keefover says it appears to be the first time in the state's history that its courts have all shut down on a business day.

The judicial branch's budget problems would be worse were it not for a law that allows the Supreme Court to increase filing fees and other fees. That measure takes effect next week.

The Supreme Court also has scheduled furlough days for court

ASHLEY STANDAGE, TESS BROWN, SAMANTHA SCHMIDT and KRISSTAL KRISS gathered around one of their creations. The four students, along with many others, received awards for their artwork this year.
