Menlo School alumni, friends and family met for a meal and reminiscing on May 29 at Montana Mike's in Colby.

David Moos called a business meeting to order after the meal. Alumni who graduated in years ending with a zero were recognized. Bob Beckman, Longmont, Colo., and Vera Sloan, Colby, were recognized from the class of 1950, while Ron Washburn, Lenora, was the lone graduate present from the class of 1960.

A prize went to Geneva Cooper for being the oldest alumna present. Recognition for traveling the greatest distance went to Ralph Moss, Palisade, Colo. The youngest person present was Rhonda Beckman, daughter of Bob Beckman. Patty Washburn and Anna Bell Beckman tied for have the most grandchildren at 24 each.

Names of recently deceased alumni to be remembered included Louis Dible, Johnny Moss,

Maxine Cousins Reuber and Joe Moos.

Correspondence was read from Nina Duffey Brandt, Cecil Watkins, Floyd Cousins, George Bailey and Bernice Moos.

Donald Murphy, Leavenworth, displayed sports memorabilia and initiated a discussion about where the uniforms, score books and trophies from the former school might be. He said he still has his uniform from the state track meet in 1962 is because he went to West Point after graduation and "just hasn't returned it yet."

There was discussion regarding a historic marker to be placed in the vicinity of where the Menlo school once stood. Jack Steiger volunteered to see whether or not it would be possible to place a marker there.

David and Connie Moos will chair the 2011 reunion, and Hazel Duffey will continue in the role of secretary.

Next reunion will be at 5:30 p.m. the Saturday of Memorial Day weekend 2011 at Montana Mike's.
