

Be afraid... it's a scary pep rally

JUDY ROGERS/Golden Plains High School
The Golden Plains High School cheerleaders put their fright on at the school's pep rally last Wednesday for the last football game of the season. They began the rally in a dark gym and frightened many of the students in attendance. The girls held rallies throughout the football season, keeping the crowds cheering for the team. Cheerleaders include (front, from left) Morgan Walz, Viridiana Beltran, Melissa Ritter, Laura Clapp and (back) Jordan Christensen, Angela Ritter and Kylie Jones.

Golden Plains' all-school play highlights 'Hunkering Hero'

By Hayden Best
Golden Plains High School

Everyone is invited to the all-school play, "Hail, the Hunkering Hero," at 7 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 12, in the little gym at Golden Plains High School in Rexford.
The full-length play depicts the struggle of a hill-billy youth who starts out in his small town and moves on to college. Ma and Pa are oblivious to the fact that he is playing football for his college. They just assume that he stopped off on the way home from school, yet he has been gone for weeks.

"The cast has been working on their lines and practicing their acting skills for the past few weeks," director Vicki Allison said. "They invite everyone to take time to come watch this entertaining play."
The National Honor Society will have a soup supper before curtain time, from 5 to 6:45 p.m. in the school cafeteria, serving chicken and noodles and chili. The group will be taking donations to help pay for recycling bins at the school.

Rexford school sponsors drive

The American Red Cross will hold a blood drive from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday at Golden Plains High School in Rexford.
The goal is to gather 19 units of blood at this twice-a-year event, sponsored by the Golden Plains High School Student Council. Students, staff and community members are encouraged to participate in this life-giving event.
For an appointment, call the high school at (785) 687-3265.
