Visit these local businesses to pamper that special someone!

11/11/11 wedding offered

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) – Eleven couples are competing in cyberspace for a Key West wedding on 11/11/11.

The Facebook contest was organized by Nadene Grossman, who owns an event planning company called We've Got the Keys. Local companies are providing the venue, flowers, music, photography and wedding bands, as well as a rehearsal dinner sunset sail.

More than 1,400 couples entered the contest by sharing their story and submitting a photo. Contest sponsors narrowed them down to the 11 finalists.

Voting ends today and the winning couple will be announced on Valentine's Day.

Love songs offered by Adelines

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP) – A women's musical group is offering singing telegrams with a difference this Valentine's Day in the Danville area.

The Danville Show Chorus of Sweet Adelines, who specialize in barbershop quartet-style close harmony, will offer the service from 7:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. They tell the Danville Commercial-News that for $25, they'll come to a home, restaurant, workplace, church or home, sing a love song, and present both a rose and a card.

The three songs being offered are a bit older than the Lady Gaga generation. As a matter of fact, they're a bit older than the Beatles – or even the Andrews Sisters.

They're: "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," "Ain't She Sweet?" and "What Would I Do Without You?"
