"But, that's where our world is now. We are a mobile society and many of the problem solving tasks deal with probability and statistics, so we have to adapt to the changing needs so our students are successful."

Another curriculum change involves the integration of career and technical education pathways that will allow higherlevel students to follow a path of education that will lead them into a desired career, if they so choose.

'We've found that students want more and more of this type of class schedule," said Wieland. "It gives them the opportunity to take meaningful classes that are ary education or straight into a important to them, not just because they need it to graduate."

Open house scheduled for K-25 construction project

The Kansas Department of Transportation will hold a public information open house about the upcoming project to improve highway K-25from Russell Springs to the K-25/U.S. 40 junction from 5 to 7 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 9, at the Winona Fire House, 206 Belleview.

During the open house, department engineers will be available for questions about the project. They will outline the construction phases, detail the official state detour, and answer specific questions regarding access to county roads.

Construction staff with Venture Corporation of Great Bend, the project's prime contractor, will also be available for questions.

Members of the public can visit at any time during the open house; because no formal presentation is scheduled.

Those unable to attend the open house can contact the Department of Transportation's District Three office in Norton for copies of the takehome information, which will be available after the meeting. Comments are welcome any time and are not limited to the public information open house.

The open house location is handicap accessible. Those who need other accommodations to participate should notify the department at least one week prior to the meeting at (785) 877-3315 or kristenb@ksdot.org in Norton.

The reconstruction of K-25 in Logan County is funded by T-WORKS. Upcoming road construction projects may be viewed at the T-WORKS website: www.ksdot.org/tworks.
