Kansas City Royals hit three home runs, top Tampa Bay Rays 5-4 for sweep

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — On the hottest day this year in Kansas City, dehydration was starting to become a concern. Players were exhausted. Royals manager Ned Yost was starting to feel sorry for Tony Randazzo behind the plate, and he wasn't even the umpire whose face had been bloodied in the game.

Billy Butler's tiebreaking home run in the eighth was an especially welcome sight, leading the Royals to a 5-4 victory and three-game sweep of the Tampa Bay Rays.

"It was really, really hot out there," said Butler, who greeted reliever Burke Badenhop with his 15th home run.

Yost said trainers had IVs waiting in the locker room.

Aaron Crow (1-1), the fifth Royals pitcher, was the winner after getting two outs in the eighth as the Royals recorded their first home sweep of the Rays in 11 years.

Mike Moustakas and Alcides Escobar also homered for the Royals, who managed to sweep a team three games immediately after getting swept themselves. After a potentially ruinous 12-game losing streak in April, the youthful Royals have fought back to five games under .500 (34-39).

The Rays had tied it 4-4 in the top of the eighth after Carlos Peña reached leading off on an error that left first-base umpire Brian Gorman wiping blood. Peña's hot grounder glanced off first baseman Hosmer's glove and struck Gorman on the left side of the face as he was signaling the ball fair.

The veteran ump cleaned some blood off his face but stayed in the game after being attended to by the Royals' trainer. Then Tim Collins walked Jeff Keppinger and Ben Zobrist unloaded a two-run triple.

"He had a little cut," said Yost. "But he's fine. Gorman's fine."
