Weather New doctor arrives at Colby clinic

He'll be a family practitioner and will be doing everything from obstetrics to end-of-life

"Obstetrics is probably my favorite," he said. "It's an exciting time for families and an awesome experience to be a part of bringing new life into the world, and seeing the excitement of the mom, the dad, grandparents and their whole family.

"Sometimes they want to take pictures of the baby with the doctor. It's a really great feeling to be apart of this moment."

Dygert is the first of three new physicians recruited as part of a health-care expansion campaign by Citizens and its fund-raising arm, the Citizens Foundation. A general surgeon and a second family practitioner, a husbandwife couple, will join the team in August 2013.

Over the next three years, Citizens hopes to raise $1.9 million to pay for the recruits and clinic expansions to accommodate them.

'What a great opportunity to be a part of the campaign," Dygert said, "and be a part of a group of professionals who are so focused on providing better care for their patients and want to continue to improve themselves. It says a lot about the hospital, and it's one of the major reasons we decided to come here.

"There are always new things being added to health care, new advancements and new technologies. If you stand still, you get left behind," he added.

Dygert said he first interviewed for his position in March 2011 and several months ago his wife, Jilinda, and their newest addition, 4-month-old daughter Hannah, came to look around and find a home.
