

Chance Hoeting lined up for a shot at the Kinsley Kid Classic meet Saturday. He placed fifth

-H shooters headed to state

Four members of the 4-H 30 points out of a possible 50. are later in the year and are held will compete on Saturday, Oct. 13, at the state match in Valley

All four qualified at the Sherman County Shotgun Shoot on Aug. 19 in Goodland. About 25 or 30 4-H'ers were at the shoot, most were from Thomas, Sherman, Wallace and Cheyenne counties, though there was one from southwest Kansas, said Thomas County program coordinator Clint Milliman.

In the Goodland shoot, Cole Ziegelmeier placed first in the junior division, for youths 12 to 14. Jay Ziegelmeier was second in the senior division, for shooters 15 to 18, and Kurt Sloan took third and Chance Hoeting fifth.

To qualify for state, members must have a qualifying score of Shooting Sports shotgun team They shoot clay pigeons at a range of 16 yards.

Thomas County has about 20 kids enrolled in the shooting program, including seven or eight in shotgun, Milliman said. Some are enrolled in more than one event, each of which has a certified instructor. The program is growing, with the addition recently of shotgun and archery.

Ross Sloan is the shotgun instructor, while Janna Hutton is the instructor for archery, Mike Wetter for rifle – including BB gun, air rifle and small-bore rifle - and Chad Zimmerman for pis-

The number of competitions varies. Those that involve shooting at a stationary target are generally held in the spring, Milliman said. Shotgun competitions on an open skeet range, he said, with a moving target. At present there are only about three competitions in the area, but Thomas County hopes to have its own in the future.

Participants, who provide most of their own equipment, divide their meetings between project sessions covering rules and safety and live practices. When the weather is nice, they practice at an outdoor range, though they are able to use the 4-H Building during the winter.

The 4-H Shooting Sports program aims to develop life skills, teach safe and responsible use of firearms and archery equipment, and provide competition for par-

New mobile app helps in accidents

what steps to take or basic infor- change with the other driver after their personal phone numbers. In mation to share – or not share – after an auto accident. They may

The new WreckCheck mobile application from the association can help eliminate that risk, according to Sandy Praeger, Kansas insurance commissioner.

The app outlines what to do immediately following an auto accident and takes users through a step-by-step process to create their own accident report.

"It also provides tips for staying calm, safe and smart on the road," Praeger said, "and makes it easy to capture photos and document the necessary information to file an insurance claim."

Additionally, the commissioner said, the app lets users e-mail a completed accident report directly to themselves and their insurance agents. The app is free and available for both iPhone and Android smartphone users. It can be downloaded by going to a user's app store on his/her phone and searching "WreckCheck."

The recent national survey revealed consumer uncertainty about auto accident procedures, such as when to call the police or

Welcome Reception for

Tyson McGreer

Wednesday, September 26, 2012

3:00 - 6:30 p.m.

(PLEASE NOTICE TIME CHANGE) Law Enforcement Training Center

360 N. Franklin Ave., Colby, Kansas

Many Americans don't know what personal information to ex- think they are required to share

"Consumers generally only bers is not necessary. even put their identities and safety need to share their names and viders," Praeger said. "Sharing additional personal information, such as driver's license numbers and home addresses, puts consumers, their property and their safety

According to Praeger and the association, the most common accident misperceptions and associated risks included the following:

• Nearly 40 percent of respondents felt they should share their driver's licenses; one in six would thinking about after a car accident allow the other driver to photograph their licenses as a convenient way to exchange information. The risk, however, is that many retailers accept driver's license information as a common way to verify identity over the phone.

• Twenty-five percent of consumers would share their home addresses. Unfortunately, sharing this information gives identity thieves the physical location of one's mail or garbage, where they could find personal or financial information about their victims. It also means they know where their victim lives, putting his or her personal safety in jeopardy.

• Almost 30 percent of drivers fact, sharing personal phone num-

• Close to 20 percent of people at risk by sharing too much per- correct vehicle insurance infor- believe the only reason to call the sonal information, according to a mation, which should include the police after an accident is if somerecent survey by the National As- phone numbers of insurance pro- one is injured. However, filing a police report can help facilitate the insurance claims process.

Sharing too much information, Praeger said, could lead to a problem with identity theft, one of the fastest-growing crimes in the U.S. The Federal Trade Commission estimates nearly 9 million consumers have their identities stolen each year, disrupting finances and damaging credit histories.

"The last thing you're probably is protecting your privacy," Praeger said. "But understanding what information to share, and with whom, will help keep you safe after an accident. It can also decrease some of the challenges of filing a claim later on."

Kansas drivers can get more information by going to the Kansas Insurance Department website, www.ksinsurance.org, and downloading or printing the "Kansas Auto Insurance and Shopper's Guide," located under the "Publications" icon at the bottom of the home page. InsureUOnline.org, from the national association, has information about what to do following an accident.

Sponsors needed at library to keep magazines abundant length of time a child's magazine can be checked out.

We have found that many parents prefer having the magazines check out for their children for two weeks. This gives the children time to work through and enjoy the issues.

The magazines that this new policy apply to for the younger children are Big Back Yard, Ranger Rick and Lady Bug. For middler and teens, Kids Discover, National Geographic: Kids, American Girl, Youth Seventeen, and Sports Illustrated: Kids. It will also apply to the new magazine we are adding, Kids Answers Magazine. Now, adults, don't get any ideas. We will keep your magazines check out time the same. This way our current issues circulate faster and more people get to read them.

Speaking of magazines, did you know that the Friends of the Pioneer Memorial Library has an Adopt-A-Magazine project for the library? We ask businesses, families or individuals to sponsor one magazine for $25. With these donations our community members actually save a large amount in their family budget by sharing resources. We are adding two items this year in the adult section: TV Guide and Answers Magazine.

Current magazines with a family twist are Parents, Parenting, Family Fun and Family.

Items that talk about cooking, gardening and decorating are: Cooking Light, Fine Cooking, Real Simple, Simple & Delicious, Southern Living, and Taste of Home; Country Living, House Beautiful, Midwest Living, Martha Stewart: Living, Romantic Homes, Traditional Home, Town & Country, This Old House, Unique Homes, Veranda Garden Gate, Organic Gardening and Mother Earth News.

Health and fitness magazines include Fitness, Cycle World, Natural Health, Health, Men's Health, Prevention, Sports Illustrated and Horse & Rider.

For the crafty type we subscribe to Creating Keepsakes, American Patchwork and Quilting, Family Handyman, Wood, Architectural Digest, Treasures: Antique to Modern Collecting and Family Chronicle Some men's titles (not that women can't enjoy or use them) are Esquire, Men's Health, Sports Illustrated, Outdoor Life, Outside, Popular Mechanics, Four Wheeler, Hot Rod, Field & Stream, Motor

Melany Wilks

 Library Links

& Ranch.

For the ladies we have Good Housekeeping, Better Homes and Gardens, More, Country Woman, Family Circle, Glamour, Ladies Home Journal, O: The Oprah Magazine, Redbook, Vogue, Woman's Day and Brides.

In finance we have Forbes, Kiplinger's Personal Finances and Money. For purchases and consumer advice we subscribe to Consumer Reports: Buying Guide (yearly), and Consumer Reports (monthly magazine.) Weekly news magazines available are Time, Bloomberg Businessweek, People Magazine and Saturday Evening Post.

Some specialty magazines are Archeology, Popular Science, Sky & Telescope, Psychology Today, Readers Digest (large print), Traveler (by National Geographic), National Geographic, Natural History, and National Wildlife. Magazines specific to Kansas: Kansas Heritage, Kansas, Kansas History and Kansas Wildlife and Parks, Reminisce. Daily newspapers subscriptions include the Colby Free Press, the Hays Daily News, the Salina Journal and USA Today.

If you want to help with the Adopt-A-Magazine program at the library, call us at 460-4470 for information or come in to the library.

Now let me just name a few printed books we are adding to our shelves this week. Five fiction items include "Queens Ransom," by Tori Carrington (a Sofie Metropolis Novel); "A Foreign Country," by Charles Cumming; "Joy for Beginners," by Erica Bauermeister; "The Memory Thief," by Emily Colin; and "The After Wife," by Gigi Levangie Grazer.

Science fiction we have added includes "The Spirit Well," by Stephen Lawhead; "Wards of Faerie: The Dark Legacy of Shannara," by Terry Brooks; and "A Guile of Dragons," by James Enge, (Tournament of

Two interesting nonfiction items are "A Daughter's Tale: The Memoir of Winston Churchill's Youngest Child," by Mary Soames; and a book written about India, "Behind the Beautiful Forevers," by Katherine

Remember our hours have changed for the fall and winter season. We are now open from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Thursday, to 5 p.m. Friday, to 4 p.m. Saturday and from 4 to 4 p.m. Sunday.

See you in the library!

Transfer program to help nurses

Kansas nurses now can advance can earn an affordable bachelor's to the highest skilled preventative their careers at home, thanks to degree without having to leave and therapeutic healthcare, saving an agreement between 18 Kansas their home community.' community colleges, including Colby Community College, and the University of Kansas School KU's online registered nurse-tobachelor of science in nursing

'Health care today is increas- tered nurse. ingly demanding bachelor's-

the Colby Community College

fine arts trip to Santa Fe and Taos,

N.M., set for Oct. 18 to 21, focusing on Native American culture,

Highlights include a visit to the Georgia O'Keefe exhibit, the Santa Fe Plaza, attending mass at the Cathedral of St. Francis, touring the Loretto Chapel and the oldest

In addition, the tour includes a visit to a 200-year-old ranch,

the Palace of the Governors, the

"Roundhouse" Capitol of New Mexico and the San Miguel Mis-

The tour will include a stop in Taos to tour the plaza, surrounded sion, the nation's oldest church.

symbols and imagery.

house in Santa Fe.

There is still time to sign-up for by galleries and shops.

KU has offered an online degree since 1996, but the new agreement makes it easier to make the transiof Nursing which allows nurses tion, she said. It guarantees admiswith an associate's degree to re- sion to every student who graduceive a Bachelor of Science from ates from an associate-degree nursing program with a 2.5 grade average or higher and passes the licensing exam to become a regis-prepared nurses," said Dr. Karen creates increased opportunities," Miller, a registered nurse and dean said Dr. Steve Vacik, president their education at KU. That will of the KU School of Nursing. "We at Colby. "Our students receive want to ensure that Kansas' nurs- advanced education and training, ing workforce can meet that de- while the people of northwest mand, but that the state's nurses Kansas receive additional access

A bus will leave Colby on Thursday, Oct. 18, and travel through southwest Kansas and Oklahoma with stops at folk art and other

The trip home will go through

Colorado Springs, including a stop at the St. James Haunted House in Cost for the four-day trip, which

Art instructor Rebel Jay will lead the tour. She has scheduled an informational meeting at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday in Ferguson Hall,

Looking for enthusiastic, dependable individuals to

For information, contact Jay at room 503.

(785) 269-7065.

includes room, board, entry fees and travel is $400 per person.

galleries along the route.

Cimarron, N.M., for lunch.

lives and money." Students who enroll in the program will have to earn a total of 120 credit hours, including 60 hours in prerequisites and liberal arts classes. The last 30 hours of the program will be completed online. "As the University of Kansas, it's our mission to serve all Kansans," said Chancellor Bernadette "This transfer agreement really Gray-Little. "We're making it easier for Kansas nurses to continue benefit their careers, as well as help them contribute to the health of their communities."

Markets Space available on college trip

Quotes as of close of previous business day Hi-Plains Co-op Wheat (bushel)

$7.40

$12.79

Corn (bushel) Milo (hundredweight) Soybeans (bushel)

$15.79 Corrections

The Colby Free Press wants to maintain an accurate record of our town. Please report any error or lack of clarity in a news story to us at 462-3963.

We want your local news: e-mail to colby.editor @ nwkansas.com

Please Recycle

Lets Celebrate! Joy Davis is 90

American Legion Saturday, Sept. 22, 2012 5 - 7 p.m. Meet & Greet 7 - 9 p.m. Dance

D&R PUMP SERVICE, LLC

Domestic, Stock, Windmill, Solar, Submersible, Irrigation, Repair and Sales. With over 30 years of experience!

Ron Shipley - (785) 675-1422 state licensed Kansas and Nebraska Devan Castle (785) 657-7217 member of the Kansas Groundwater Associati join our team of newspaper carriers!

Check out all these GREAT Incentives!

NEED EXTRA

- ★ Sign on bonus after 3 mo.
 - ★ Weekends always off ★ Friendly customers
- ★ Bonus for new subscribers ★ 1-2 hrs, 4 times a week
 - ★ Various sized routes

This is an independent contractor opportunity. If you are looking to earn a little extra money please call or come in today!

785.462.3963 155 W. 5th Street

Rabies: Simple Steps to Save Lives 1 World Rabies Day • September 28, 2012 Please call today to schedule a time

WELCOME RECEPTION

Come Meet Our New City Manager

for your pets free rabies vaccination on 9-28-12. Appointment spots are limited.

785-460-1078

Swartz Veterinary Hospital 1775 W. 4th St. • Colby, KS 67701