Photos of old elevators to be shown at museum

"Landmarks In a Sea of Grass," an exhibit of Bruce Selyem's photographs of country grain elevators, will be on display from Friday, March 15, to Sunday, April 7, at the Dane G. Hansen Memorial Museum, 110 W. Main in Logan.

This exhibit includes 56 framed photographs that show elevators and their landscape. The states represented are South Dakota, Montana, North Dakota, Nebraska, Washington, Kansas, Indiana, Oregon, Colorado, New Mexico, Ohio and Oklahoma.

The object of Selyem's exhibit is to preserve a representation of this visual agricultural history and share it with those who are interested. This collection of photographs is a beautiful documentation of a vanishing piece of our agricultural history.

Museum hours are 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, 9 to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. Saturdays and 1 to 5 p.m. Sundays and holidays.

For information, call (785) 689-4846 or go to www.hansenmuseum.org.

Rabbits eat through cars

DENVER (AP) – Silly rabbits. The furry creatures are wreaking havoc on cars parked at Denver International Airport by eating at the wiring.

To stop the problem, federal wildlife workers are removing at least 100 bunnies a month.

Airport spokeswoman Laura Coale says that out of 4.3 million parking transactions in 2012, three claims were submitted for rodent or rabbit damage, and none was submitted with a claim for towing.
