

FREE PRESS

Wednesday

May 8, 2013

Volume 124, Number 73 Serving Thomas County since 1888

SAM DIETER/Colby Free Press

Firemen sprayed water into a burning garage Friday afternoon were not visible outside the building, but smoke billowed out through an overhead door being held open by a forklift. Flames from the open doors and under the roof.

Western Sprinkler building catches fire

By Sam Dieter

Colby Free Press sdieter@nwkansas.com

A fire broke out Friday afternoon at Western Sprinkler on Range Ave., damaging one of the company's buildings.

While police directed traffic around the west lane of Range, firemen pried open an overhead door on the west side of the building with a forklift as smoke came out through cracks near the roof. They went in with a fire hose through a door on the east end of the building.

Fire Chief Bob McLemore said the call came to the fire station at about 5:40 p.m. and the fire department had finished up by about 7:30.

Sean Hankin, the assistant fire chief, said the fire was started by a portable generator on the back of a truck in the building. The generator had a starter cable leading to the truck battery,

SAM DIETER/Colby Free Press

A door to the garage was held open Friday evening by firemen so they could pump water and fresh air into the burning ed arcing.

"Something basically shorted meeting with investigators.

Tuesday afternoon, shortly after the east end of the building

He added that the investigators had to pick through pieces of insulation that fell off the roof of the building.

The vehicle was at the west end of the four-bay building, he said, which is where the worst damage was. But there was smoke and heat damage throughout, including melted plastic in the building's sprinkler system.

Hankin said the fire department used one of Western Sprinkler's forklifts to pry open a door to relieve heat, and also tried to saw a hole in a door. Firemen then went in through the small door on the east side and sprayed the truck with a hose from there.

A structural engineer looked at the damage Tuesday, he said, and was not sure of the extent of the damage to the structure itself or to property inside. The building is badly charred inside, but some which wore away and then start- and was smoldering," he said supplies appeared to be intact on

Police chief to retire in August

Randy Jones

Randy Jones, the Police Chief for Colby, said he will retire at the start of August.

Jones announced his retirement effective Aug. 1, at the City Council meeting on Tuesday night. The council members gave him round of applause, and City Manager Tyson McGreer said he would immediately begin looking for a replacement.

Near the end of his career, Jones served as the interim city manager for the city when Carolyn Armstrong retired June 15, until Mc-Greer was hired as the new city manager on Aug. 21.

County begins budget process

Colby Free Press Colby.society@nwkansas.com

The Thomas County Commissioners received 2014 budget proposals from the heads of two county departments at their Monday meeting. The receipt of proposals is the beginning of the county's budgeting process which ultimately determines the mil levy each property owner pays.

Autumn Arasmith, director of the Emergency Management de- may have to replace a voting mapartment, proposed a budget to- chine this year, she said. taling $73,590, a slight increase from last year's $72,005 budget for her department.

Commissioner Mike Baughn commented that he was not sure $500 was enough for the vehicle maintenance portion of her budget, but Arasmith said the department's Explorer and pickup were now in good running condition.

Thomas County Clerk Shelly See "COUNTY," Page 2

Harms also presented proposed budgets for the clerk's department, election department and transportation driver. While the proposed clerk's department budget increased just $840, this amount did not include the cost of Harms' proposed 8 percent salary increases for her personnel. The raises would represent a cost of living increase, Harms said. Harms proposed increasing the election budget by $23,650, primarily because the department

The commissioners did not take action on the budget proposals at this meeting and will continue to receive proposals from other department heads over the coming months. After all proposals are received, the commissioners will compile a county-wide budget.

"There have been precious little

Letter carriers to collect food Saturday

scheduled for Saturday.

Local donations will go to Genesis of Thomas County, said Eileen Harris, the Colby letter carrier who is in charge of the locanned meat, peanut butter and cereal.

Special blue collection bags will be used

Carriers and Campbell Soup Company, is Bank. In Colby, the bags are available for pickup at the post office. Residents should leave the filled bags at their mailbox for letter carriers to pick up on Saturday, said Walker.

cal drive. Items most needed include meals food left near residential mailboxes even if it it began in 1993. In 2012, Americans donated in a can such as soup or chili, tuna and other is not in a blue bag. Donations will also be acmore than 70 million pounds of food. cepted at the post office, said Harris.

Last year, Colby-area letter carriers col-

The Stamp Out Hunger food drive, spon- in communities across Kansas this year, said lected about 1,180 pounds of food, but they sored by the National Association of Letter Brian Walker, president of the Kansas Food have collected up to 2,000 pounds in years past. "We'd like to get it back up there," said

> According to the association, this is the country's largest single-day food drive, col-Harris said the Colby carriers will pick up lecting over one billion pounds of food since

Retired instructor to receive honorary degree

cated service and contributions to the success of Colby Community

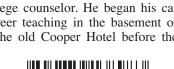

College, retired instructor Roger Hale will receive the college's 2013 Honorary Associate De-

Hale began his career here in 1966 teaching psychology, history, government and sociology. In addition to teaching on campus, he traveled to outreach locations to teach courses during the evening hours and conducted many weekend classes, workshops and seminars.

Roger Hale

Hale also served for years as the division chair and was the college counselor. He began his career teaching in the basement of the old Cooper Hotel before the retired in 2001. "I began teaching at the col-hired Dr. Richard Mosi-Mosier, Dr. James Tangeman and Dr. Mikel Ary."

Odds," Dr. Mosier wrote, mathematics, was appointed as chair of the Faculty got out and looked across the field Advisory Board to assist the president in the overall planning and development of the Colby Community Junior College. W.D. Mc-Neely, newly appointed chemistry and physics instructor, and Betty Fitzsimmons, speech and drama, out to that wheat field and visualwere also appointed as members of the board. New faculty members were Sherry Stosikpof, Law-

Recognizing his years of dedi- permanent campus was built. He McNeely and Ruth Lowenthal as maybe it was planned unknown head librarian.

Hale is quoted saying, "I relege the same year they member one Friday afternoon when Dr. Mosier came over to er," said Hale. "We only the faculty offices in the Morrihad a few instructors, so son Building. We were all gathermany of us taught several ing around talking about the new subjects. I worked for Dr. campus. Someone made the suggestion to go look at the site.

"We all loaded up in cars. I rode In his book about the in Ken Maricle's Thunderbird college, "Against All convertible. We pulled into the short driveway, which is now Col-Mildrexler, lege Drive, but then was the driveway to the Brown residence. We to the south.

"The president said, 'Can't you see a great college out there?' The truth is, I saw a wheat field. I have thought many times about the warm fall day when we all went ized what might be to come. I still have that vision of buildings in the wheat field that Dr. Mosier paintrence Mahoney, Roger Hale, W.D. ed for us. An unplanned event, or See "DEGREE," Page 2 to the faculty, certainly made a change in my life."

Hale received bachelor's and master's degree in psychology from Fort Hays State University.

He won the Tangeman Award for teaching excellence in 1994. That same year, his son Ryan graduated from the college.

Prior to coming here, he taught for a year at the high school in Schoenchen, south of Hays.

'The biggest change I experienced during my years at CCC was the growth of technology," said Hale. "Everything changed, including grading, enrolling and other services."

Hale lives in Colby with his mother Junia, who recently had her 95th birthday.

He has two adult children. Ryan and his wife Paula have two children and live in Colby. Ryan is a psychology instructor and coun-

First diploma

MARIAN BALLARD/Colby Free Press

The first diplomas awarded this spring went to the youngest class, as Sacred Heart Principal Laura Krejci handed one to kindergartner Miah Ortner Friday afternoon.