'Extraordinary' show coming to Colby

is; he bets his paycheck won't be ripped to shreds.

Cultural Arts Center at Colby Community College, Karges will present his one-man show, "Experience the Extraordinary!" The show toured over 100 cities last year.

Karges is known to television viewers for his mental feats involving extraordinary phenomena on "The Tonight Show with Jay Leno," "Larry King Live," Fox News Channel, CNN Headline News, CNBC, Lifetime and E! Entertainment Television.

He is author of "The Wizard's Legacy," "Ignite Your Intuition" and "Extraordinary Tales."

Special funds from the Patricia A. Embree Trust Fund at the Thomas County Community Foundation have been given to bring this unusual show to Colby.

During his full-evening stage show, Karges says he will risk his performance fee as a demonstration of his unique abilities.

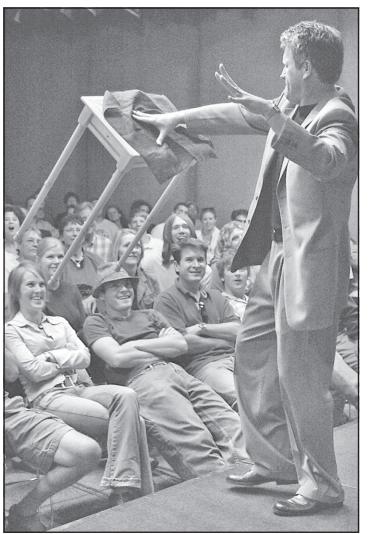

"I'll ask a member of the aucording to Karges, the other envelopes will each contain blank

Craig Karges does more than paper, and will then be sealed put his money where his mouth and mixed up. "I'll instruct that person to select one envelope and then I will destroy the re-At 3 p.m. Sunday<n17> in the maining envelopes using a paper shredder," Karges says. "If I am successful in controlling my volunteer's thoughts, the envelope remaining should contain my check. If not, Western Plains Arts Association won't have Billed as an extraordinist, to worry about me cashing my check."

> Karges was named by Performance magazine as one of the top five touring variety-family shows of the year alongside David Copperfield, Disney on Ice, the Campbell Soup World Figure Skating Tour and Barney the Dinosaur.

> In his show tables float, minds are read, metal bends and your imagination will be challenged. According to Karges, he does not possess supernatural powers, nor does he claim to perform as a psychic or magician. He also offers $100,000 to charity if anyone can prove he uses stooges or confederates from the audience to aid him in his demonstrations.

Admission to this unique dience to place the check for my event is by Western Plains Arts performance in one of several Association season ticket or at envelopes," Karges says. Ac- the door: adults $20 and students $10.

CHRIS HANEWINCKEL Craig Karges demonstrated his skills at a program. He will be in Colby Sunday.

Green power carries cost

That makes the hidden costs even more significant.

"This is an ecological disaster," said Craig Cox of the Environmental Working Group, a natural ally of the president that, like others, now finds itself at odds with the White House.

Still, corn supplies the overwhelming majority of ethanol in the United States, and the administration is loath to discuss the consequences.

"It just caught us completely port, a Department of Agriculture official who encourages southern Iowa farmers to use conservation practices. Despite those efforts, Davenport said he was surprised at how much fragile land was turned into corn fields

Shortly after Davenport spoke to The Associated Press, he got an email ordering him to stop talking.

But the numbers behind the policy have become so unworkable that, for the first time, the EPA is soon expected to reduce the amount of ethanol required to be added to the gasoline supply. Meanwhile, an unusual coalition of big oil companies, environmental groups and food companies is pushing the government to go even further and reconsider the entire ethanol program.

To understand how America got to an environmental policy with such harmful environmental consequences, it's helpful to start in a field in Iowa.

Leroy Perkins, a white-haired, 66-year-old farmer in denim overalls, stands surrounded by waist-high grass and clover. He for conservation years ago.

farming environmentally sensitive land. Grassy fields convert carbon dioxide into oxygen, and that combats global warming. Plus, the deep root systems prevent topsoil from washing away. A decade ago, Washington paid farmers in Wayne County about $70 an acre to leave their land idle. With corn selling for about $2 per bushel (56 pounds), farming the hilly, inferior soil was bad business. Lately, the math has changed.

"I'm coming to the point where financially, it's not feasible," Perkins said.

The change began in 2007, when Congress passed a law requiring oil companies to blend billions of gallons of ethanol into gasoline.

Oil prices were high. Imports were rising. The legislation had senator from Illinois, the na-

Reception to bid Chamber director farewell

There will be a farewell reception for Chamber of Commerce Director Holly Whitaker from 4 to 6 p.m. Friday, Nov. 22, at the Sleep Inn Convention Center, 2075 Sewell Ave. Join in to bid her a fond farewell as she and her husband Adam embark on their new adventure to England. For information, call the Thomas County Chamber officer at 460-3401.

Wellness Challenge to kick off Jan. 6

This year's Thomas County Wellness Challenge will kick off with a presentation from Dr. Doug Gruenbacher on Monday, Jan. 6, with blood draws for lab tests available from 6 to 9 a.m. Thursday through Saturday, Jan. 9 through 11, and Monday, Jan. 13, in the lobby of Citizens Medical Center. The Challenge itself will begin Monday, Jan. 13. For information, contact Megan Carmichael at 460-4596.

Food for Thought begins with author

The Prairie Museum's Food for Thought program, held at noon on the third Thursday of every month from November to March, will kick off for the season with a presentation by author Albert Hardon of Atwood on Nov. 21. For information, go to www.prairiemuseum.org.

Creation expert to speak at banquet

The "Partners for the Future" banquet at 6:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 22, at Heartland Christian School will feature Brian Young, director of the Creation Instruction Association. Tickets are $15 including dinner, music and the speaker. Call Deena Bandy at 460-6419 for information.

Sign up now for holiday food basket

Genesis-Thomas County Food Bank plans to distribute holiday baskets for Thomas County families. If you'd like a basket, pick up a form at the office, 350 S. Range, Suite 13, from 10 a.m. to noon or 1 to 4 p.m. Wednesdays, the Pioneer Memorial Library, Thomas County Health Department and the state Department for Children and Families, or call 460-7930 and leave a message.

Genesis needs nonperishable food items and money to fill baskets. Bring donations to the office, 350 S. Range (open Wednesdays), Leroy's Printing downtown or participating churches. Checks may be sent to Genesis, Box 214, Colby, Kan., 67701. Organizations planning a food drive are asked to leave a message at the office, 460-7930.
